

TAX TIME IS DELAYED TO THE SUMMER

All Taxing Bodies of County
Must Run on Credit for Five Or Six Months

Here is some good news for the tax payers, but bad news for the various taxing bodies of the county and their employees. It is admitted that there is no chance of any tax bills being ready until July 1, and not then unless the General Assembly passes a bill that is before them, which allows the extension of the taxes upon the books and bills of the tax payers as a lump sum, instead of being itemized. It is estimated that such a procedure would save a month's time in the clerical work.

When Wm. Malone, of the state tax commission issued the order that junked all of the real estate assessments made by the township assessors last year, he started something that will not alone be hard to finish, but which will cost the tax payers of the county many thousands of dollars. Cook county is the only county in the state against whom such an order was issued. The collection of taxes will proceed as usual in the Lake and DuPage counties.

Efficiency experts have compiled forms and methods upon which they think an equitable real estate assessment can be levied. The exact result of the system is not yet known. Many assessors are already talking about taking up the duties and some of them may prefer to retire from office than to be a part to such a procedure. Until the public is convinced that the new plan will not work a hardship upon the property owner, there is certain to be a lot of complaint.

The true condition was brought to light this week, when N. J. Puffer, a director of education for division one, visited the various county offices of the board of assessors, board of review, tax extension department, etc., to learn how some school tax money would be available. The replies he received were discouraging for the schools who were expecting to receive tax money in March and April.

House Bill No. 1, which provides action of the state legislature, is expected to relieve the situation. If it is passed, but it is not certain that the taxpayer who wants to know exactly where his tax money goes.

Milk Men Refuse Deliveries To Large Dealers

While the milk producers of northern Cook county are not dealing with the Bowman and Borden companies and sell their product almost exclusively to the small milk dealers, all are watching the development of the strike that has been declared against Borden and Bowman by many locals of the Pure Milk Association. It is reported that strike pickets in northern Cook county stopped the farmers from delivering milk to the Borden plant of the Bowman company. Similar action is reported to have been taken in other places. Deliveries to the same dealers in Cook county have continued, but representatives of the Cook county local, including Mr. Herman Schwake, were in attendance Thursday morning at a meeting held in Chicago.

Both Sides Stand Firm
Both sides in the price controversy refuse to yield. Roy Davis, president of the Waukegan Lake Shore Pure Milk Association, declared that the farmers were determined to continue the strike. He said that they were desperate and intended to win or get out of the milk producing business. Bowman's manager at Borden said that his company would close the plant if it would pay $2.85.

From the pure milk association's Chicago headquarters, D. N. Geyer, field representative, announced that two more locals had joined the strike making a total of twenty-five. He said that practically all of the local organization members were united on the strike excepting those supplying milk to four plants in McHenry county, where Chicago has been fighting during the tuberculosis testing fight three years ago.

Plan Meeting In Madison
The Wisconsin council of agriculture announced that a special meeting would be held in Madison tomorrow to consider the Chicago controversy. The council is made up of members representing the cheese, butter and cream organizations of the state, the equity, the union, farm bureaus, and fluid milk organizations.

A resolution was adopted by the Illinois Holstein association at the Morrison hotel urging the consuming public to demand arbitration of the milk price situation.

Frank Kullman, vice president of the Bowman Dairy company, which with the Borden company, has refused to arbitrate, said his company "will continue to supply our customers with milk at 14 cents a quart." The loss in supply, dealers said, will be made up by shipments from farmers outside the area of the Milk Association.

Humble Beginning.
The first passenger railway in the world, built by George Stephenson in 1825, ran from Stockton on Tees to Darlington.

Racing Date For Arlington Park Will Be In July

Racing Days
Aurora, May 1 to May 25 .....22
Wash. Park, May 27 to June 29 .....30
Arlington Pk., July 1 to Aug. 2 .....29
Hawthorne, Aug. 3 to Aug. 24 .....19
Lincoln Fields, Aug. 26-Sept. 28 .....30
Hawthorne, Sept. 30-Oct. 12 .....12
Aurora, Oct. 14 to Oct. 31 .....16

Three $50,000 stakes were in prospect for Chicago as the Illinois Turf association ended its meeting Wednesday, after adopting racing dates for Illinois for the coming season.

It was reported that the new association in control at Arlington Park, will offer a stake of that value also that the American Derby will be worth $50,000 when run next June, and that the Hawthorne Gold Cup event, to be decided in early October, will carry a like value.

The season opens on May 1 and closes October 31, and, taking full advantage of the state law, the various tracks here will operate 158 days, the Sunday layoffs, as prescribed by law, being the only days when the horses will not do their stuff.

Hawthorne Has Two Meets
The choice dates of June, July, August and September seem to have been grabbed off by the four tracks nearest Chicago—Washington Park, Arlington Park, Hawthorne and Lincoln Fields.

The American Derby will be run on June 15 at Washington Park, it was announced. Roy Carruthers, who represented the new jockey club at Arlington said his association will announce its complete program for stake events within a few days.

It is reported the $50,000 race to be run at Arlington will be an all age affair, and will be decided late in July. It was also rumored there is a possibility that Reigh Count may start in the rich Arlington fixture, providing he trains soundly throughout his campaign in England, which will carry him through many a hard day.

Arlington Has Good Dates
The Arlington Park and Hawthorne dates for the coming season are regarded as the most desirable by most racing men.

Arlington's meeting in July will have no opposition in the west and only the Empire City meeting in New York will be in progress.

Hawthorne's August meeting will be opposed only by Saratoga in New York, the same conditions that prevailed last year.

President Reigh was re-elected president of the State Turf association. Robert M. Switzer was chosen vice president and Charles W. Bidwell was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Roy Carruthers and Roy D. Keen, representing Arlington Park, were added to the board of directors and C. W. Hay, general manager of the Washington Park track, also was elected a member of the board.

TWO GAMES AGAIN FOR ARLINGTON

The usual allotment of "double headers" takes place tonight and tomorrow night for the teams of the Northwest Conference. Arlington is no exception and they took up in a brace of games that are welcomed by the fans as a possible means of retaliating for the setbacks of last week. The boys have promised that those two defeats will be the last time they will drop games of that sort consecutively and guarantee a couple of teams a high powered drive this week-end in their quest for two necessary victories.

Tonight Barrington and Arlington tangle on the former's floor. This should prove a humdinger as both teams are plenty disgusted with the drubbings they received in their last two games. And then tomorrow night Bensenville comes to Arlington in a contest which will be the last home game for Arlington until after the conference tourney the first of February.

This Barrington affair is not being taken lightly by the Arlington of the Heights school and they realize how hard it is to invade Barrington and emerge with a victory. For the Maroons have a reputation for high powered basketball on their home court and will also be out there battling for a victory tonight. Clinge, Buckley, Hawley, Bechele and De Plomb form a five that are dangerous scorers and while only at times this season have they played the game of which they are capable they are not going to be held down much longer.

Then the game with Bensenville here Saturday night, may prove a real game for Coach Johnson's boys have been improving wonderfully this year and they are rapidly showing the form that rate them higher in the conference standings.

Both teams stand at about the same place in the rating column as Arlington and it is a sure thing that there will be some more shuffling around among the teams this week.

Five high class games stand out around the N. W. loop. Friday night Libertyville journeys to Antioch, and Arlington to Barrington, and Saturday night finds Barrington at Leyden; Libertyville at Palatine and Antioch at Warren.

ARLINGTON TO BENEFIT BY CHANGE

New Plans of Arlington Park
Owners Will Benefit
Arlington Heights

Arlington Park, under its new management, will mean more to Arlington Heights and Palatine than ever before. The change from a financial venture to a sporting proposition devoid of financial reckoning, will not alone place the park among the foremost racing plants in the world, but will attract a class of people to the two villages and surrounding territory that will mean a lot in many ways to both communities.

This paper is in receipt of authentic information that is of so startling a nature and of so great importance that the details cannot be announced at this time, but it is hoped that an announcement can be made within a month of new plans at the big racing plant that will disclose an added use for the property.

The Chicago press and this paper carried stories two weeks ago concerning the new management and the caliber of the men who have paid two million dollars to secure title to the track.

Arlington Park is already recognized in the sporting circle as being upon a new plane and is securing the endorsement and co-operation of a class of people which insures its success in a new way. It has ceased to be a promotional proposition. It will hereafter be the home of clean sport and will be divorced from all influences that even have a suggestion of the other element that follows the race pure for profit. Profits, if there are any will go right back into the improvement of the track.

The recently published announcement of another racing plant in the vicinity of Glenview, may come to naught. It is no secret that it is a promotional venture and the business world and the sporting world will hesitate to invest their funds in another race track in a field that has too many today.

LIONS CLUB MINSTRELS ON THE WAY

An honest to goodness, sure fire minstrel show had its beginning in the dining room of the Lutheran school hall Tuesday evening. Wm. Koppin, following the business session of the Lions, tried out the voices of the Lion members who were present.

It was early decided that there were plenty of voices, with a little training will produce a minstrel company the equal of any which has appeared on an Arlington Heights stage in the last fifty years.

Mr. Koppin in traveling about the country picks up many ideas in the minstrel line and he has some original stunts to offer.

The Lions club earlier that evening gave a committee full power to organize the minstrels under the direction of M. Busch.

There were a lot of other things that the Lions did that evening. Lion Lauder milk announced that the broom that is going to clean up the front yard of Arlington Heights will soon start sweeping. He also gave as his opinion that with a man power of the entire club membership at the handle of that broom there is nothing that can not be accomplished, even to the erection of a new depot. The same spirit and ideas were endorsed by Mr. Powell, of the Lauder milk Sales organization who was present as a guest and said a lot of nice things about Arlington Heights.

Wm. Koppin was another speaker who said a lot of complimentary things about Arlington Heights in general and Lions clubs in particular. He spoke on the subject: "Why I want to join the Lions."

Chairman Fred Miltzer spoke on the community nurse plan and was instructed to secure additional data as regards the size of funds that are needed to handle the proposition and to later prepare the necessary petitions to have the matter placed upon the ballot.

The Lions unanimously authorized the presentation of formal invitations to the Lions clubs of Barrington, Palatine and Des Plaines to be the guests of the Arlington Heights club in the near future. The committee has full authority to make all the arrangements. The suggestion was made that the invitation also include the Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Prospect.

Concentrated effort on the part of all the villages to clean up the front yards and railroad property is one of the purposes of the "union meeting."

There were a number of other things that were discussed, and announcement of which will be made later.

Business Men's Association Hold Election

The board of directors of the Arlington Heights Business Men's Association met Tuesday evening and considered many matters of importance to the association, chief of which was the decision to hold the annual meeting and election of the association next Thursday, Jan. 24.

WALTHER LEAGUES IN MEETING

Zone Meeting Norwood Park
Church Next Sunday; Higgins-Canfield Hosts

A Walther League Rally of the Northwest Suburban Zone will be held at St. Paul's church, Norwood Park, corner of Higgins and Canfield roads Sunday afternoon, Jan. 20, at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Otto C. Rentner, a prominent attorney, will be the speaker. An entertainment consisting of a play entitled, "Like Mother Baker," will be given in the evening. Supper will be served at 6:00 p. m. at 50c a plate for those who can stay for the evening.

The Walther League of St. Paul's church is not yet affiliated with the zone organization, but it has a live league and is glad of the opportunity to be host to the organizations of the other churches.

At present the Walther Leagues of Palatine, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Park Ridge and Norwood Park are affiliated in the zone organization but it is only a question of time before the zone officers expect to have all of them officially a part of the larger organization. Any Walther League member is welcome to attend the meeting at Norwood Park.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the exact location of the church, the following directions are given: Take Northwest highway to Oliphant avenue, Edison Park, continue south on Oliphant to the church. Oliphant avenue is Canfield road out of the city. If you are coming on the 1-2 train to Edison Park, notify Rev. A. H. Zimmer and a car will be there to meet you.

Mercurys Win First Of The Season

The Arlington Heights Presbyterians "Mercurys" won their first regular game of the season Wednesday night by defeating a team from the office force of the Northwestern Railway Co. The game was a little ragged in spots, but established the superiority of the locals early in the game.

Paulsen was high point man in Johnson featured in their floor work and defensive play. A little forward named McIntosh was the ace for the visitors.

Next Wednesday a stronger team will be played by the Mercurys when a team from Englewood visits the local floor.

Hello Girls Enjoy Old-Fashioned Sleigh Ride Party

If that "number please" that came over the telephone Wednesday morning, sounded a little hoarse, and masculine, there was a good and sufficient reason. The hello girls, numbering 15, were out on a sleighing party the previous evening and they wore for that evening masculine attire, in the way of overalls, etc. The only real man along was John Firnbach, who handled the reins, but no bunch of boys ever had a bigger time, more falls and snow baths than did these girls who forgot for the evening all about switchboard troubles and busy signals.

After a drive about town, enlivened around ten o'clock by a front seat at the garage fire, the party found their way to Arlington Inn. The proprietor surprised the girls by having the tables particularly decorated for the occasion and after a bit of chicken and other refreshments, the girls danced and it was near 12 o'clock when the faithful Chevy of Agnes Mayer, undertook the job of escorting the entire crowd of thirteen tired but happy girls to their respective homes.

Wm. Neuman Loses Car For Six Hours Parent Finds Thief

Wm. Neuman, of Arlington Hts., often keeps his Essex car at a private garage near the home of his mother-in-law in Chicago. When he was unable to start it last Monday morning on account of ice, he left it in the city.

Sometime Wednesday morning the car was stolen. The owner of the private garage showed little interest until he discovered that his son had also disappeared with all of his clothes. The dad played detective and before nightfall had located his son with a companion in the car, which had been damaged to some extent. Mr. Neuman agreed not to prosecute upon payment of damages.

Super Plan For Preserves Is Presented

The county board of commissioners received Wednesday the completed plan for the development of the forest preserves of the county. That plan was compiled after two years work on the part of engineers and prominent men and women who are interested in beautifying the forest preserves and adopting a general plan for their development.

The plan patterned after the same idea as the Chicago plan, is large and it will be many years before it will be realized in its entirety. However, all future development work in the preserves will be made so as to aid the plan and not conflict with it. Chief among the provisions of the plan is the great forest way, which is designed to connect the majority of the preserves in the county.

WILL ERECT ARLINGTON'S LARGEST BLK

Building Corporation Plan a
$200,000 Business Block
On Vail-Davis Corner

Arlington Heights largest business block with a frontage of 222 feet will be erected this spring. The site is the corner of Vail and Davis streets, across the corner from the Herald office. Workmen from the Arlington Landscape Service are removing the large hard maple trees to make room for the new structure. The Vail-Davis corporation has been formed to handle the project. Herman Redeker will be the renting agent and he is now taking leases.

Plans for the building call for seven stories four facing Vail street and three facing Davis street. There will be three stories, the upper two being divided into sixteen apartments. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by August from which date concessions will be given to tenants, the leases reading from October 1. Mr. Redeker states that he has a number of inquiries from probable tenants and will be pleased to discuss the matter in detail with any one who is interested. The apartments will be strictly modern with electric refrigeration included.

The structure, designed by Cable & Spitz and supervised by Fred E. Hertz, their local representative, will be of English design, somewhat similar in general appearance to the Engkeling garage across the street that was designed by the same firm.

At the present time there is only one vacant store in Arlington Heights and inquiries from outsiders seeking locations here are frequent. With the completion of the new village hall and the erection of the Vail-Davis building that part of the business section will loom up in great shape and adjoining property values will rise.

Judge Forberg of Des Plaines Honored At Reginal Conference

The Herald in its Tuesday's edition carried a full report of the district meeting of the Northwest Suburban Council of Boy Scouts. Since that meeting Judge Chas. F. Forberg of Des Plaines has been elected to the Executive Committee of the Regional Board of Region 7 comprising of the four states of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan at the Regional Conference which was held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel Tuesday. Due to Mr. Forberg's long experience in scout work it was felt that he should represent with 6 others the council throughout the state of Illinois. This advanced step in scouting brings Mr. Forberg greater responsibilities taking into consideration the scouting problem of the four states.

This means an additional contribution of Mr. Forberg's time to the cause of scouting and we are grateful for it. May his efforts be crowned with success.

Des Plaines After Trophy.
After a conference of local scout officials, Mr. W. D. Amadan was nominated and elected Chairman of Des Plaines Council.

Mr. Amadan has had a very wide experience in Scouting and through his knowledge and aggressiveness the Des Plaines Council will take immediate steps forward to bring the Thomson Trophy home to Des Plaines.

Pictures That Talk Like Living People At the Pickwick

At last the Pickwick presents pictures that talk like living people! Perfected talking pictures are electrifying audiences the world over—and now Park Ridge and vicinity may enjoy them! The Pickwick's perfected vitaphone and movietone, miracle like, make the shadows of the screen talk like living people. Thrilling stage drama, delightful musical comedies, famous orchestras, inspiring melodies of grand opera, all these are recreated in sound and action at The Pickwick, the Polka Brothers theatre at Park Ridge.

MODEL SCHOOL DEDICATION ON NEXT SUNDAY

Lutheran Congregation Prepares for Record Crowd
At Dedication Sunday

Sunday, January 20th will be a grand day in Mt. Prospect. The $45,000 Lutheran school building will be dedicated in special services that will be held in both the English and German languages in the afternoon and evening. Both the church and school auditorium will be utilized for these services. The purpose for which this building is to be put, is definitely set forth in the program of the day as follows: "This building is dedicated to the service of God and the State as a Christian Day School, an institution for the training of the youth under the influence of the Word of God to be true Christians and loyal Americans."

The dedication of the school building occurs sixteen years to the very day of the organization of the St. Paul Lutheran school. It was January 20, 1913, that classes were held in the first room of a little cottage on Main street by Pastor J. E. A. Mueller.

Two services will be held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. Prof. Ed Koehler of Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, will deliver an address at the services in the German language, which will be held in the church building. At the same hour Rev. Paul W. Lucke of Evanston will speak in English in the school.

In the evening, Rev. Alfred Reinke of Concordia Church, Chicago, will speak in German at the school and Rev. Carl J. A. Hoffman in English at the church.

Both the mixed choir and the children's chorus will render selections during all services.

ENGELKING GARAGE OPENS FOR BUSINESS

The Engkeling Motor Sales, Arlington Heights newest garage is now open for business and with a storage space of 45 cars provides a service to car owners that will be appreciated by them. The garage with its central location, on North Vail street, only a block from the center of the business district is easy of access, especially for the man who wants to leave his car while he takes the train to Chicago. With an Old English gable effect front it has none of the barren effect that usually accompanies public garages. Mr. Engkeling is making good use of that front. The firm of Malzahn & Goedke will use the space south of the entrance as a display room for plumbing and heating supplies. The north show room will be the display room for Chrysler cars, of which Mr. Engkeling has taken the agency.

Before we say much about the garage, there may be a few of our readers who may wonder what Mr. Engkeling is talking about. All the boys about town know Phil. For many years he was associated with the Wetteman Ford garage and has now branched out for himself. His large acquaintance and the smile that never comes off, coupled with his knowledge of cars are certain to insure the financial success of his venture.

The entrance of the garage proper is in the center of the building, thereby allowing full use of all the car space on each side. The garage is 66x125 ft. It is particularly well lighted by means of overhead skylight. Phil says, "I have been in garages enough to know the value of daylight and I have it here." The proper heating of a garage is another important matter. There has been installed by Messrs. Malzahn & Goedke a Hijet heating system, whereby the cold air is drawn from the room, heated over steam coils and distributed by fans. This is the most modern method for such business places and during the cold snap last Monday Mr. Engkeling had a chance to test its efficiency, which proved satisfactory.

A Kewanee furnace furnishes steam for the building.

24 Hour Garage.
There is another thing that Mr. Engkeling learned in his garage experience, the need of a 24-hour garage. He is opening the first local garage to give service every hour of the day and he is certain that as the public becomes familiar and acquainted with the service, the patronage will merit the effort. During the opening week a total of 371 cars entered the garage.

Mr. Engkeling before selecting an automobile to handle did a lot of looking around and has decided upon the Chrysler, the first announcement of which appears in this issue. He is an authorized dealer and is ready to supply the car to the local people who have always been talking Chrysler, but have never gotten behind the wheel of one of their own.

The building that houses the Engkeling Motor Sales was designed by Cable & Spitz, was elected by Fred Schulenburg and supervised by Fred Ebert associated with the above architects. It is a big addition to the business section of the village.

Local Men Attend Inauguration Of Gov. Emmerson

Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights were represented at the inauguration of Governor Emmerson Monday. A special car accommodated twenty-one old time friends to Springfield. Among the passengers in special were A. F. Volz, of Arlington Heights, a former assemblyman; Wm. Busse, county commissioner; Wm. Busse, Jr., Henry Ehard, of Mt. Prospect; Senator Fred Roos, Geo. A. Miller, old public servants of this district; Judge DeYoung, chief justice; speaker, Dan Shanahan, and others. The party left Sunday night, returning to Chicago Tuesday morning.

As hotel accommodations were meagre, our friends lodged in the well appointed, well heated and lighted Pullman's and secured their meals in the dining cars, the train being held intact for that purpose. The crowd made a lark of the trip and when Judge DeYoung, as chief justice, found that he would have to procure striped trousers and a silk hat for the inauguration, he at once supplied himself with these indispensables for the dignity of the occasion. Just to show how human our great lawmakers can be, we dare to tell you that group of solons, separate and severally, had to try on that hat in a private conference and even marched to instruct the judge as to his duties. "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest of men" and even great solons and governors are not exempt.

Some of the boys from home did not join the march to the capital, but waited in the side lines long enough to see our congresswoman, Ruth Hanna McCormick and Hon. Dan Shanahan lead the line.

This was the first time many in the party had witnessed a governor's inauguration and they declared it was a great sight and well worth the trip to the state capital.

Woman's Club Furnish Library Room In the New Village Hall

At the last meeting of the Women's Club a motion was made and seconded that the club buy furnishings for the library room that is being built in the addition to the village hall.

According to the by-laws, any motion involving spending money outside the club, must be voted upon on the day it is made, but at the regular meeting two weeks later, so at the next regular meeting, Feb. 6, at Mrs. Whitmore's the question will be decided.

A blue print of the room is in possession of the club women and there is considerable enthusiasm for the project on the part of a number who have been most instrumental in saving money for some such public need as this.

This Women's Club, owned, supported and operated for many years the first public library of the town (as there have been several others) many school children of the past remember.

After the present public library had become a well established fact, all the books of the Women's Club library were donated to it. This anticipating the need of the library when it is moved to its permanent quarters in the village hall does credit to the broad minded and generous spirit of the club, who, in spite of occasional ridicule and protests, have persisted for years in laying aside a little each year to be used, not for themselves alone, but for something that would aid the whole community.

While it is too soon to announce definitely what will be done, the vote cannot be taken until Feb. 6, there is a great deal of interest in the matter, both within the club and without.

Club Notes
The public speaking class will meet with Mrs. Eugene Whitmore on North Evergreen avenue Monday evening, Jan. 21, at 7:30. All club members welcome. Everyone present to talk for three minutes without notes on a subject of her own choosing.

Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 23, at 2 p. m., club members and friends are invited to meet with Mrs. John F. Pfingsten on South State Road to sew for the Little Wanderers. Any one having material, either new or used to make into children's clothes, please bring it, or if you cannot come, send it, or ask the Social Service Committee to call for it.

The second social evening of the Women's Club will be held Friday evening, January 30, at the home of Mrs. George Peter, 103 S. State Road. Each member may bring her husband or some other guest.

Community Players Elect Officers And Enjoy Big Banquet

Monday night, January 14, the Community Players to the number of 31, enjoyed a banquet served for them at Arlington Inn. A regular spread from roast chicken to olives and finally ice cream, cakes and coffee. This was the tune for annual election of officers, which resulted in the election of the following:

President—Mrs. Frances Elfeld.
Vice-President—Mrs. Maud Parker.
Secretary—Mr. Roscoe Reed.
Treasurer—Mr. Gilbert Klehm.
Property Manager—Mrs. August Peter.
Stage Manager—Mr. O. G. Bolte.
Business Manager—Mr. Wm. Friemel.

The exact date of the play so long planned has not been announced, but it will certainly take place before long.

PARENTS ON TRIAL, BOYS ARE SET FREE

Confessions of Boys Reveals Deploable Condition in Arlington Heights

Three boys were arrested Wednesday night and taken before Judge Byrd on charges that ranged from robbery, selling of moonshine to rape. The rest of the ones were not present. The boys were set free after full confessions were obtained. It was the opinion of the majority of those present, and the court room was well filled, that the guilty ones are the parents and the people who comprise the community. The boys have agreed to turn over a new leaf and go straight, but the conditions that influenced them otherwise remain in this town.

Their original arrest was brought about on a warrant sworn out by a local young man, whose escort was insulted at the depot Christmas night. When Chief Skog completed the investigation, there were a number of other charges pending. Two boys confessed to moonshine, that two of them had had intimate relations with a number of local girls. As the age of one of the boys was over nineteen a charge of rape could have been filed against him. The law excuses the same act by the younger boys. There was a moral lesson in that quiz for many of the parents of girls in this village who are allowed to see their sons too much. The moonshine charge against one of the lads, 22 years old, brought about a confession that brought tears to many present. Here was a young man, employed in Arlington Heights, who had lost his job, took up the selling of booze at dances to make a living, who was so tired of life and the hard knocks that he was ready to leave the village and go to the penitentiary or the electric chair. As he said, it made no difference to him. There was nothing for him to live for.

The theft of a woman's purse from an auto at Barrington was explained and other acts of lawlessness came to light. The publication of this item is not appearing on this page as a matter of news. It is appearing here in an effort to awake the people up to their responsibilities.

Activities of St. Peter's church, Arlington Heights are to be depicted in a movie story that will be ready for presentation on the screen the latter part of January. The local church has made arrangements with the Striebel-Friedrichs Specialty Co., which firm will take the movie scenes and place them into a story with an interesting plot. After the showing, which will be given two nights, the film becomes the property of the church. The first scenes, that of the recent Christmas pageant, have already been taken. Other scenes will be taken about the village, including the arrival of a train at the depot, a business street scene, the new Seagraves fire truck in action, a fire drill at the Lutheran school, and the children at play, etc. The purpose of the film is entertainment, educational and historical, but its main purpose is to visualize the Lutheran church and town activities and particularly the Lutheran school.

MOVIE STORY WILL CONTAIN LOCAL SCENES

Pupils of the school are in charge of the sale of tickets and an opportunity will be given to everybody to see these pictures. They will contain many scenes and people who may not be members of the Lutheran congregation and it is in reality a

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Some folks look like their photographs. Writing their lives in epitaphs; And all their lives go dying. They don't know they should sometimes laugh. Life is God's gift, our strength the staff. Of faith, on Him relying.

There are people who just enjoy gloom; and sometimes they spread a blanket of dismal shadow over everyone about them. They dwell on the text "Better is the day of man's death than the day of his birth," missing the wonderful meaning of that saying.

Why pull long faces and cast a shadow of gloom over the lives of all around you? Better is the day of a man's death, means if he has lived his life, as a gift from God and leaves earth life having grown nearer to "the perfect life" than when he came into the world. We should live as accepting the gift of life and dying will be only a door admitting us into larger life.

There can be no perfect life without mirth, and sorrow, joy and tears, and I don't believe God meant us to go through life casting dark shadows when He has set His glorious sun to shine upon us with blessings all the way giving to each life storm and calm, and to every heavy cloud its silver lining.

Our bodies are given into our care how can we build them to express the best in life without the sunshine of mirth. Heard a learned Rabbi tell a story the other night proving that "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men." The Rabbi's story was this: An Episcopal clergyman duly robed was going along the street. The very personification of dignity.

A little boy called the clergyman, respectfully calling him "Father." Another little ragamuffin, heard him and said scornfully "that ain't no father, he's got four children." Just about as wise as most of us are about church dignitaries, their why and wherefore, but it made a good laugh and harmed nobody.

Here comes Mary Anderson telling the world women are inferior to men. All right Mary, I was about convinced of that when you took the part of "Salome" in Oscar Wilde's horrible play or opera, yet I know neither all men or all women can be measured by the little tape line of some, who can only measure others by themselves.

Just let our Ruth Hannah answer in her life and activities such "catty" opinions as that, only put out to kitten favor from men who are bit jealous of our Ruth's kind of women. By the way, did you see Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick led the march from the state house to governors inaugural escorting or escorted by Hon. David Shanahan?

This morning after a night of deep snow and the morning monkeying around and below zero, it was gratifying to hear the milkman and the mail carrier both speak smilingly of the fine morning. So it was clear and cold, a beautiful blue sky overhead and a pure white spread of snow under foot. A fine day.

Now over here is our neighbor, Rev. Fricke, working like a Trojan to clear the walks about his place from snow (why we say working like a Trojan) I don't know, but it seems a sort of classic thing to say. Anyway I'm sure this bright young clergyman will be able to inject more clarity of ideas and fervor of argument into his sermons on account of the ozone and uplift he gets from this glorious morning air and healthful exercise.

Here is one of our newer residents, who has traveled much and is lately home from an overseas trip, says if you plan to take a journey or look forward to a trip some day, don't postpone that trip too long, go now, and enjoy the memory of it through all your life. Have thought I'd love to go on a long journey. Do you suppose I am old enough? I'll ask this traveler friend.

Did you witness the ski contest at Cary Sunday? Well there were said to have been ten thousand people who did go. So suppose they didn't miss you and me. Think of ten thousand humans waiting around on the cold ground or in autos to see a few other persons risk their lives on skis, the mercury twelve below zero in the shade.

That reminds me that this morning's Tribune informs us that Capt. Herman Koehl, who crossed the Atlantic in the great Zeppelin, was injured in a fall when skiing in Switzerland. The sharp end of his spear pierced one of his eyes and he feared he will lose his sight of that eye. Does this prove airplanes are safer to navigate the air on than skis?

This is the 15th day of the new year and so far I have heard or read of no new or original resolutions. Truth is we make a great row over the new years coming, but it is just an indefinite extension of the old year. The program of days, weeks and months are so much repetition, why the racket?

New Year! New Year! What do you bring, A creeping all unbidden thing; A guest whose coming we deplore, Until his purpose we learn more. Come ye to fright us, Or come ye to cheer, What do you bring to us Bright New Year? Old year brought us much of sorrow.

Do you promise us A better tomorrow? New Year! New Year, what do you bring, Coming to meet our questioning Coming defiant up the edge, Pushing the old year, Over the ledge; What is your warrant? What our gain?

Do you bring easing For a hurt or a pain? Thoughtless ones half wide awake, Do you bring more than from us you take? New Year! New Year! What do you bring? Glorious untiring visioning.

Two useless things just now cumber the earth the New Year resolutions and last years used Christmas cards. By the way, I know an earnest lover of children not to spoil, but to build them, who used to save all the pretty post picture cards, bind them together and take them to the child's hospital.

Why doesn't some enterprising teamster start a bus line or runners, with horses to propel them in the good old fashioned way? Plenty of sleighs a few horns together the passengers and well fed horses rested from hot weather work. Sure that would be a popular thing with evening parties and social gatherings, or for suppers at one of our popular restaurants or inns.

I've told nice stories about boys. Here's one about a little girl that warmed my heart. She was at a party and among the guests was a certain woman she had never before known. Gradually she came to this lady and finally put her arms about her giving her a kiss. Then she ran away, but soon came back and told the lady she was ever so pretty, and that she loved her, finally she said, Do you know why I love you and think you're beautiful, because you look just like my mother.

Speaking of parties, some of our Arlington Heights friends transplanted to California had a regular Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Volz at Long Beach, California. The party was made up of the Diehls, the Helms, the Hewitts and the Helmskins, there may have been others whose name we missed. Don't you wish you had been there?

One of our newer residents, Mr. Herbert Hall, with his wife, recently returned from a visit to England. Mr. Hall's old home, which he had not visited in 38 years. They made the trip in the Washington, one of our splendidly equipped ocean lines, yet poor Mrs. Hall suffered from sea sickness both trips. They do not discount the beauty of old England, but the best part of their trip was their arrival back home.

Sometimes our English friends have been a bit rude in their criticisms on America. This makes the genuine loyalty of these gentle intelligent family speak in such glowing terms of their joy in coming back to America. To them their true home, after travels in many places. Yes, America and old Illinois is the best place on earth for them.

(Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree.)

Yet listen to me brother man, Poems were writ since time began. Old year brought us much of sorrow.

Do you promise us A better tomorrow? New Year! New Year, what do you bring,

Coming to meet our questioning Coming defiant up the edge, Pushing the old year, Over the ledge; What is your warrant? What our gain?

Do you bring easing For a hurt or a pain? Thoughtless ones half wide awake, Do you bring more than from us you take? New Year! New Year! What do you bring? Glorious untiring visioning.

The young people of our Walther League have been invited to the Zone Rally Sunday at Higgins-Canfield Lutheran church, Rev. A. H. Zimmer, pastor. This is the third rally of Northwest Suburban Zone and judging by the interest and enthusiasm shown at the two previous gatherings, the present rally will not fall behind in point of attendance and youthful pep. The business meeting will begin at 3 p. m., followed by a banquet supper at 6:30 and the entertainment at 7:30. Every Lutheran, young or old, member or non-member who may be interested in the welfare of our youth is invited to the activities of the day.

It will be a thrilling event for our children when the movie man comes to take their pictures in action. A full reel of pictures will be shown at our school auditorium on January 25th and 26th, showing scenes of our town, parts of the pageant of the Christmas program, the activities of our school and the children at play. It will be a real treat for parents and children to see these pictures, tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from the teachers or any child attending the Lutheran school.

You are invited to the educational meeting of the Walther League, Monday, 8 p. m. Every Lutheran, whether a member of the league or not will derive profit from these meetings. May we ask you to refer to the printed program and prepare yourself for a discussion of the text and topic selected for Monday evening.

PUBLIC NOTICE

At the regular monthly meeting of the Northwest Band of Arlington Heights it was decided to change its name to read Arlington Heights Band, as it was formerly called.

Blister Beetle's Mistake.
The blister beetle will not eat the usual insecticides which might be used on the soy beans that it infests, and so the scheme of tickling the bottom of its feet to kill it has been devised. This tickling is done by dusting the plants with sodium fluosilicate, which irritates the feet, and as a result it rakes its feet through its mouth, thus getting the poison into its system.

French Boneless, Please.
Old Dear (to inspector, regarding lost and found) you did poor darling Fido, give the little lost pet two sardines on a buttered toast and a saucer of cream for his tea—London Opinion.

South Side Breezes

Uncle Mose
Well, folks, dis am agwine to be sorta a farewell note to yo for a spell. As yas simply can't stan' dis here cold weather. Lizabeth and ah has done decide to go back to Alabama fo' awhile and ah's gwine to see if ah can't thaw out.

Somehow or other ah sorta hated to let dese here South Side Breezes drap, so ah foun a young nigger to take mah place while ah's gone. Ah left Slow Motion in his care to n' ah bet dat mule will appreciate his Unc' Mose when ah come back, coz' dis here coon ain't got no patience. Yo sho' will have to speed up now Slow Motion!

Yessuh!
Ah's agwine to take jis enuf space to introduct yo' all to Young Rufus Rastus Brown. He ain't much to look at, folks, but dat nigger sho has got a nose fo noose. If he doan get dis here Souf Side Noose den dere ain' none.

'Long folks, ah'll see yo all asoon as ah get thawed out. "To Alabama or Bust."

Old man winter has lost his power incoas as halting building operations in Arlington Heights goes. He has tried every trick of his trade the last few weeks and has even gone so far as to throw in a couple of extra cold waves. In spite of all this building operations and the sale of real estate continue unhampered.

On the south side of Arlington Heights new homes are starting almost daily. Basements are being dug, foundations are being put in, roofs are going on and orders for more homes are coming in "just like in the spring" according to officials of the Charles P. Gray company. This statement is proved too by the fact that George L. Parker who has the building contract for the South Side this year is running a full crew of carpenters. Mr. Parker has added several new men the last week in order to keep up with the orders that are coming in.

Local contractors are coming in for their share of the building trades work on the south side this year. Malzahn and Goedke and several other local concerns are working full blast in the wake of Parkers trail blazers. Out of the dozens of homes going on all over the Gray properties more than 90 per cent of the work goes to local concerns and therefore the proceeds from the work remain at home.

It is known that the Gray company has recently taken an order for twenty lots upon which will be built twenty homes but Clyde C. Young, director of sales for the company, would not make a detailed statement of the operation at this time. It is generally surmised though that local capital is interested and that they do not wish their names made public just yet.

Bowling News

Monday Night
The Arlington Candy Boys defeated Fritz Kehe's Motor team two out of three last Monday evening on alleys 1 and 2.

The Candy Boys boast that they have lost only two out of a dozen games this season to the Motor team, who hold their own with any other league team. The Metz Cabbies have increased their lead to four games by their victory of three games by Postmaster Prehn's Kitty Korner team on alleys 3 and 4. The Cabbies are all steamed up with confidence which has won them quite a few games they did not deserve this season.

Steinke Five won two with ease from the Edelweiss team, who did not topple the pins as they did in the first part of the season. Oh, Hank! See you Monday.

V. F. W. and Auxiliary News

Arlington Post No. 981
Phone All News Items to Arlington Heights 382-J

The new officers of both the V. F. W. and the Auxiliary of Arlington Post No. 981 are to be officially installed on Saturday evening, January 26th at Arlington Heights Village Hall. The festivities will begin at about 8 o'clock or shortly after. The installation will be open to the members of both organizations and their families.

Following the installation ceremonies, cards and bunco will follow with, of course, refreshments. This is the first of similar joint meetings that are planned for the coming season. The members of both organizations feel that perhaps they have been overlooking the social part of their organizations more than they should. Upon the invitation of the men, the wives and sisters are responding heartily in this joint installation.

The officers of the Auxiliary to Arlington Post No. 981, V. F. W. for 1929 are as follows:

President, Marie Bolte.
Senior Vice President, Lena Held.
Junior Vice President, Elizabeth Horcher.
Chaplain, Rose Foley.
Secretary, Agnes Towne.
Treasurer, Luanna Wilcox.
Conductress, Edith Niemeyer.
Patriotic Instructor, Lillian Brockmeyer.
Banner Bearer, Ruth Hefferen.
Guard, Maude Armanen.
Historian, Eleanor Hausman.
Colors, Regina Horcher, Irene Horcher, Helen Schulenburg, Lucille Dix.
Trustees, Martha Helfers, Minnie Beckman, Erna Damm.

These, together with the officers of the V. F. W. post, will be installed next Saturday night at the Village Hall, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Rose Foley, past president of the Auxiliary, was out for the first time today, after having been confined for some time at her home with sickness.

Mrs. Marie Bolte is also well on the way to recovery after having been sick with the flu.

Mrs. Luella Windheim is reported sick today. Her many friends of the Auxiliary and others wish for her a speedy recovery.

New item: Bill Hefferen finds this sub-zero weather too much for his new Chevrolet. He has it stored in a warm garage. Never mind Bill 'Chevies' run in cold weather too.

Thanks to Mayor Flentie for his kindness in allowing us to use village hall for our installation party.

Through the kindness of H. C. Paddock & Sons this column is being given to us each Friday in the Arlington Heights Herald. All comrades and sisters are urged to send in their news items for this space.

Next meeting night for V. F. W. is Friday, January 25th. Every member please be present.

ARLINGTON HT'S.

The first new babies of the year were:

Born, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thomas, January 2, 1929, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bunn, on West Campbell street.

Born, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Karl Plath, January 2, in their home at Elk Grove.

Mr. Charles Sielof was reported sick the past week.

Mr. W. E. Koplin left home on a business trip to Omaha last week.

Mrs. Lucile Dix and daughter, Marie, are spending some time with her sister, Mrs. O. G. Bolte. Mrs. Dix's husband, Mr. Robert Dix, died recently after a long illness. For some time he was in a hospital.

Miss Gertrude Bolte returned to her employment in the city first of the week after being at home two weeks, ill with a severe cold.

The people down in South State Road were much disturbed Sunday night by a strong odor of wood smoke. The climax came when about ten o'clock flames burst out from the Fred Scharringhausen garage, when the fire ladders were called out.

The first grade public school now under Mrs. Marten's care, were treated to a sleigh ride Tuesday afternoon after school.

Mrs. Jessie Kulin, from Crystal Lake, came down Wednesday to attend the double birthday party for her cousin, Mrs. Ruth Koerber and her little daughter, Ruth.

St. Peter's Christian day school are planning an entertainment in which the children are to take part.

The children of St. James school had a merry sleigh ride Tuesday night, when John Firnbach's sturdy team shook the bells and carried the sleigh along over the snow in happy, happy ride for the children.

Mrs. Elsie Koeh gave a shower for her sister, Mrs. Matthew Benic, Tuesday evening at her home in South Evergreen avenue. Among the guests were Mrs. Knockamus and Mrs. Harris from Chicago. You may be sure this cheery, genial company had a dandy good time, choice refreshments and showers of appropriate gifts for the guest of honor.

Mrs. George Peterson, Jr., is to be hostess to the young women's sewing club at her home Tuesday evening next week.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Frank Whiting in her home Friday afternoon last week. Considering the weather and health conditions, the attendance was good and the meeting interesting finished with a bite and a sup with the hospitable hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Schallwitz and baby from Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, Jr.

Several cases of mumps are reported in town.

Mrs. Charles Scherf and little son, Jimmy, accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Spoerer, plan to leave here Sunday for a six weeks stay with Mrs. Scherf's parents, near Miami, Florida. It will be little Jimmy Scherf's first meeting with his grandparents and is sure to be a happy one.

Mrs. George Peterson will give a party in honor of her son, Gale's seventh birthday Friday afternoon. A group of boys will be pleasantly entertained to help Master Gale remember the occasion.

Miss Kealey had so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to return to her employment Wednesday.

Beware of blocking, a much needed adequate drainage system for our town.

The South Side Card Club met with Mrs. Samuelson in her home on South Evergreen avenue Tuesday afternoon.

The Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts met in the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon. They are planning to give a card party for the benefit of the Boy Scouts much needed equipment.

A council meet and banquet for Boy Scouts was held at Des Plaines Monday evening. Several from Arlington Heights attended. Fifteen members of the local troop band were of the company, and to their credit played five numbers for which they were much praised. Master Charles Proctor, eight years old, was effectively dressed in a white costume figured as director and so perfectly carried out the role, that he was specially commended by the speaker of the council and termed a second Sousa.

The young people of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Chidley family, who have been shut in for some time, victims of flu are now able to be out again.

Mr. L. Crane, a property owner and taxpayer of this village was left without employment after being dismissed from his duties at the township high school on Nov. 15, 1928. Any offer of employment will be greatly appreciated. Phone Arlington Heights 68-R.

Mrs. Paul Faege was hostess to the Mothers' Club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Philip Laseke has been kept indoors for a few days on account of illness.

Mrs. M. C. Higgins is spending the week in the home of her niece, Mrs. H. A. Hastings.

Rudolph Hasemann and his friend, Bill, of River Forest Seminary, visited his parents over the week-end.

The Mens Card Club met Monday evening at the home of H. A. Helm.

The Auxiliary of Boy Scouts will give a card party Thursday afternoon, January 24, in the home of Mrs. F. Proctor, W. Campbell St. Tickets 50c, for the benefit of Boy Scout work. "5000" bunco and bridge will be played. Refreshments served. Everybody cordially invited to help raise funds to buy drums for the Boy Scout band.

M. E. Church Notes

The Men's Club will meet for dinner and program next Monday evening at 6:30.

Mr. E. N. Miller occupied the pulpit in Mr. Billman's place last Sunday. Those who heard him, say that Mr. Miller has missed his calling and should be a minister.

The Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society will meet for dinner Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Wilson. A group of thirty young people met at the church last Friday though the thermometer registered 10 below zero. They organized themselves into a young peoples club, and will hold another meeting in two weeks.

Both C. A. C. and League teams of basketball are now going in full swing. C. A. C. defeated Irving Park last week 30-25 and the league teams were in turn defeated by the champion Des Plaines team, Boys 28-25, girls 24-12.

Next week Mayfair plays the League and Des Plaines plays C. A. C.

Plans for the forward program of the church school are now in process of formation under the capable leadership of Mr. Shepard.

Mr. Billman will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning after his absence due to a brief illness.

The Halls Return From Trip Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hall, whose long journeyings are so well set forth in the following pages. Are among our newer residents, and live in a cosy brick bungalow in South State Road, which has been their home since coming here from Chicago, two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Hall are people well worth knowing. Their nearest neighbors express golden opinions of them and are glad to have them for neighbors.

The description of Mr. and Mrs. Hall's trip was courteously furnished by request.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hall of Arlington Heights, left their home on October 15, 1928, for a trip to England. They arrived at New York on Oct. 16, and on the 17th of October crossed over to Hoboken, New Jersey, where they went on board the ship George Washington. A vessel 722 feet long. Displacement 37,400 tons, horsepower, 21,000, and each propellers weight

22 tons. It had a crew of 634 men. They were on the water seven days, arriving on Oct. 25, at Plymouth, England. The weather was very fine going over. Mrs. Hall was seasick a few days. At Plymouth they took a train for London and then on to Essex, where Mr. Hall's sisters live. They found the English trains to be faster than ours, but not as modern. The country was very beautiful at this time as the saw blackberries being picked from the hedges. And flowers of every description in bloom. At Tiptree, a small town where they stayed, was a large jam factory. Great fields of strawberries and raspberries are grown in the surrounding territory.

They then went on to Yorkshire, where they found coal mines, woolen mills and machines manufactured to make new cloth out of old rags. These machines were invented by Mr. Hall's nephews. They visited the city of Leeds and also Osset, Horbury, Dewsbury and Sheffield, then on to Derbyshire. At Derby they saw more American automobiles than any other town. They said the English drive very small cars, the names of some are Baby Austin, Morris and Elco, which are the principal ones used. Mr. Hall said it cost over 100 dollars to buy a license to run a Ford, and gasoline is just double the price we pay. Then on to Devonshire. At Exeter they saw so many Catholics and old churches. At Somersetshire they found the country very beautiful with its green meadows and hedges, cattle, horses and sheep staying outside all the time.

A great part of England is very damp, which makes it feel colder than our real cold days. Most houses have only fireplaces. They found the highest buildings to be around five stories. Machinery is used very little and a great many people are out of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall went past Buckingham Palace where the King is very sick. They saw the royal guards, but not the King. Also saw the House of Parliament and many other places of interest. Christmas day was spent at Essex with Mr. Hall's sister and Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw of River Forest, Illinois, who went over to Europe on the same boat. Mr. Shaw is a cousin of Mr. Hall. Then Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw started their return journey, coming back on the same boat, George Washington.

The ocean was very rough, the boat listed, rolled and dipped, which was too much for Mrs. Hall, who was sick all the way back. The boat was a day late on account of the weather. It landed at Hoboken, New Jersey on Jan. 8, 1929. The Halls arriving home at Arlington Heights Jan. 9.

During the last two years Mr. and Mrs. Hall have travelled over twenty thousand miles, by boat, train and automobile. In 1927 they travelled through Wisconsin, Minnesota, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, Canada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, to the Mexican border, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois.

During 1928 they traveled thru Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, across the ocean to England stopping at Cherbourg, France, on the way home. Besides numerous trips of a hundred miles or so not mentioned in the twenty thousand miles.

In all their travels they have found Illinois the best place to live.

BOYS WILL BE SCOUTS A Continued Story of Scoutcraft.

West reminded Roosevelt of his promise and the President made good. The banquet held in connection with the National Conference that T. H. Sponsored, attended by the President himself, was the biggest banquet, in point of numbers, ever given in Washington up to that time.

In 1910 those in charge of the proposed Boy Scouts organization in America asked West, whose work with children had already made him one of the outstanding national figures in that field, to accept the job of chief executive of the organization. At first he declined; then, realizing the possibilities of a nation-wide movement, that would enlist the enthusiasm of growing boys, he decided to accept, and took office shortly after the "Boys Scouts of America" was definitively incorporated. In 1916, the scope and usefulness of the Boy Scouts movement had grown to such proportions that it received the distinction of a congressional charter, being today one of the four organizations that have ever received that high honor—the others being the Near East Relief, the American Red Cross, the American Legion. By 1920, the Scouts organization had 16,826 troops with 475,000 scouts and scout officials. By 1926 there were 24,352 troops, with a total of 808,683 scouts and scout officials.

James E. West knows boys. All his life he has worked with, and for children. Moreover, he understands what they mean to America, as few Americans do.

"Of all the assets this great country has," he says, "none can be placed higher than youth. What America will be in years to come depends on what happens to our boys and girls today. And yet, Youth is the one thing about which we know least, from the standpoint of intelligent understanding. The Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington spent last year $2,000,000 in order that we might know how to raise more and better cattle. "In the same period, the Children's Bureau, which it was my pleasure to help inaugurate, some eighteen years ago with the aid of Theodore Roosevelt, had at its disposal $250,000. The Department of Education had at its disposal $160,000. Approximately half a million dollars in all."

"Granting the importance of boys and girls," continued Mr. West, "the problem was how to inaugurate a movement that would grip their interest, and make them better men and women. "The first essential was to have a set of ideals to strive for. In large part we found this in the nine Scout Laws that had already been formulated in England. We elaborated and interpreted them to meet our needs. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth laws, calling for bravery, cleanliness, and reverence we added as being particularly valuable in this American Age when we are likely to lose sight of serious things.

"Our next problem was to secure the interest of boys. You mustn't preach to a boy. He won't stand for it. If you want to secure his cooperation, arouse his interest. Make him want to do the thing you wish him to do. That's easier said than done. But we have succeeded in arousing in boys an intense desire to become scouts.

Sea Scout Division Enrollment of 4,000 Members Completed

To the Sea Scout Ship "Norumbega" of Newton, Mass., goes the honor of enrolling the Sea Scout, whose registration with the Sea Scout Division of the Boy Scouts of America marked the registration of 4,000 active Sea Scouts.

The Sea Scout Ship "Norumbega" was organized in January, 1926, and is under the leadership of Skipper Morgan H. Harris, of 292 Hammond street, Newton, Mass. Records from the Ship's log show that 18 members of the 35 in the crew have earned the coveted Long Cruise Badge of the Sea Scouts and that the ship has an outstanding record of service in the community. In commenting on the enrollment of the 4,000th Sea Scout, Thomas J. Keane, National Sea Scout Director said, "It is especially fitting that to the Sea Scout Ship Norumbega of New England should go the honor of enrolling the 4,000th Sea Scout. It is our hope that through the Sea Scout program the boys of New England who have inherited a love of the sea and of sailing ships from their ancestors may acquire the true American characteristics of the sea-faring New Englanders of old." The Sea Scout program is especially adapted for the older boys in Scouting who are interested in the sea. There are 501 Sea Scouts and 38 Sea Scout ships in New England. The regional officers are: Charles Sumner Bird, Regional Commodore; Charles A. Mitchell, Regional Postmaster; and Ralph H. Nodine, Regional Pilot.

CHRYSLER

Chosen everywhere by former owners of far more expensive cars - Proves
How Surely Value Wins Its Way

All over the country, those who formerly bought far more expensive makes of cars, are turning to the new Chrysler "75" and "65."

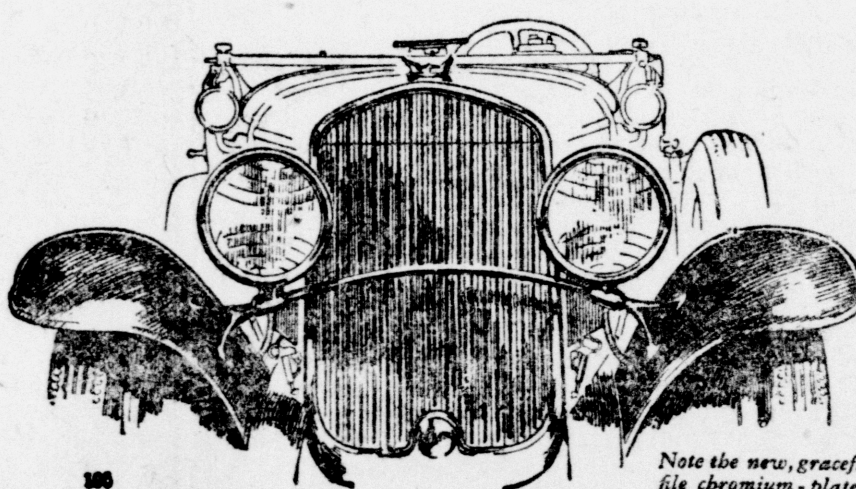

They are discovering it is unnecessary to spend the extra money. Examination and test reveals to them that these new Chryslers give finer style, performance and quality than other cars which cost even a thousand dollars more.

The result is a general acceptance of the idea that the new Chryslers can be classed only with cars of far higher price—and a consequent demand the country over that is taxing Chrysler's greatest production to supply.

Chrysler's new style that obsoletes the bulky and cumbersome—Chrysler's brilliant performance that out-Chryslers even Chrysler—are outstanding elements in this greater value that is winning new allegiances every day to the new Chryslers.

New Chrysler "75"—(with 6-ply full-balloon tires)—Nine body styles, priced from $1535 to $2345, wire wheels extra. New Chrysler "65"—Six body styles priced from $1040 to $1145, wire wheels extra. All prices f. o. b. Detroit. Immediate deliveries.

Note the new, graceful cap, slender profile chromium-plated radiator, bowl-shaped lamps and "air-wing" fenders.

Arlington Heights Down Town Garage Open 24 hours a Day

To The People of Arlington Heights

It is with a lot of satisfaction that I open my own garage in Arlington Heights. This has been my home town all my life. Its citizens have known me many years. A great many of them are familiar with my knowledge of autos. With a new modern building at my command and efficient workmen in my employ, I see no reason why I can not give to the people of this community, a garage service that they will appreciate. It is unnecessary for me to point to the fact that commodious quarters are an aid to me and to them. Remember, we handle storage of cars and are prepared to allot regular stalls to monthly customers.

New Studebaker President Eight

STUDEBAKER'S PRESIDENT EIGHT BROUGHAM exemplifies the smartness of the entire new Studebaker line. Lowness of body lines is achieved through the use of double drop frame construction. Safety glass that will not shatter is used in the windshields. Six wire wheels and a trunk, containing three cases, are standard equipment. The interior is luxuriously appointed. Broadcloth upholstery is of French pillow type. Heavily upholstered arm rests flank the rear seat with a folding arm rest in the center. Driver's seat is adjustable. Silk toggle grips and recessed ash receiver are indicative of the complete appointments. The new 115-horsepower President Eight is even more powerful than its predecessor which traveled 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes, thereby establishing The President as the World Champion car. Five world records were won by this great feat of endurance.

Morton Grove Holds Chamber Commerce Banquet Wednesday

The Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at Frank Baer's Wednesday evening was both an enjoyable and most interesting affair. Dinner was served at 8:30, followed by talks and discussions on various problems just at present concerning Morton Grove and the various neighboring villages.

Mr. Wm. Kewick started with putting a little humor into the gathering. Mr. Warren Bruner of Libertyville, representing the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, made quite a talk, stressing the individual chambers can not in any way near accomplish what a combined effort of the chambers of the various villages, having common interests, could do.

Mr. Olds, of the Northbrook Civic Association, especially cited the poor transportation facilities on the St. Paul Railway, and was expounded for a certainty that by a combined effort of all villages along this railroad, a betterment could be secured. Mr. Geo. Harter voiced Mr. Olds' opinions, also stating that the railroad officials were always ready to co-operate, if the needs of the various communities were only put before them in a convincing manner.

Mr. Wooters remarked that to accomplish the most, all efforts should be concentrated on one problem at a time and disposed of and then proceed to the next one. Mr. John Loutsch and Mr. Geweke emphasized the fact that no regular meetings of the Morton Grove chamber of commerce are provided for and that regular meetings should be held in order to make the chamber successful. It was decided to get the meeting days of the neighboring chambers and associations and then to decide on a day so as not to conflict with any of them, and to have a representation of each association present, as well as to send a representation to the meetings at the neighboring villages, and to discuss problems of common interest at these meetings.

Pioneer Is Called To Eternal Rest

Monday, January 7, Mr. William Drewes, one of the oldest settlers passed away at his home in Northwood Park, Illinois.

Born in Mecklenburg, Germany, Sept. 18, 1845 he came to this country as a young man, about 22 years of age, to Niles, Mich., thence to Oak Park where he was united in marriage with Fredericka Peters. This union was blessed with seven children, four of whom preceded him in death. His beloved wife passed away about two years ago. They celebrated their golden wedding five years ago. He was beloved and esteemed by all who knew him. Although very feeble and ailing he was always cheerful and had a kind word for every one who came to see him.

December 26, he suffered a stroke from which he never recovered. The funeral was held Jan. 10, at the home of his daughter Mrs. John H. Sell. He was laid to rest at Union Ridge cemetery. He leaves to mourn over his death, two daughters, Mrs. John H. Sell and Mrs. George Pick, 3 daughters-in-law, 3 sons-in-law, 13 grandchildren, one great grandchild and a great many friends.

Pall bearers were: Henry, August, John and Herbert Peters; Herman Jungerst; Herbert Sell.

He reached the age of 83 years, 3 months and 20 days. May his soul rest in peace.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Rev. Alb Zimmer for his comforting and comforting words in the time of our bereavement and also for the lovely floral tokens from many relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drewes
Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sell

OBITUARY

Miss Helen Fielweger, born Nov. 13, 1853 at Long Grove, child of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fielweger, as one of 10 children, 8 girls and 2 boys. All have preceded her in death, excepting one, sister, Mrs. Emma Ulrich, of Chicago, and one brother, David Fielweger, of Morton Grove. She was reared in a Christian Lutheran home and was confirmed in that faith in which she held tenaciously all her life and in which she also died. After confirmation she worked in Chicago. In later life she made her home with her brother, David at Morton Grove for a period of 12 years. She then bought her own home in Chicago, where she lived until her death.

About two months ago she suffered a paralytic stroke from which she was not to recover though she received the best of care. She passed away Tuesday, Jan. 14, at the age of 75 years, 2 months and 6 days. She was a kindly lady. She made friends and no enemies. Led an upright Christian life. Her memory remains with us in peace.

Lieut. Laird and Staff Continue Their War On Gambling And Vice

Just because the streets and highways are ice coated and slippery that there is a lull in speeding and fast driving, do not think that the highway police are resting or laying down on the job. On the contrary, they are striving harder than ever to curb the vice and gambling prevalent in many parts of the county, and especially to clean up the conditions in the northern district.

December 27, Lieut. L. J. Laird and squad arrested Eli Avrach and 12 men patrons in a place at 5 N. Broadway street, Melrose Park for gambling and running a hand book. This case was set before Judge Alexander at the East Maine police station.

Then it was learned that Mr. Avrach had another establishment at 120 S. Lake street, Melrose Park which was raided. Avrach and eight men found in the place were again arrested on the charge of gambling and this case was set before Judge W. W. Ward. Both of these cases have been continued to January 24, at the request of the assistant states attorney from Swanson's office. Mr. Avrach was held on $500 cash bond on each charge.

January 6, a place on Lake street east of Elgin and known as the "Always Inn" was invaded by Sergt. L. V. Jelinek and squad. The owner, Frank Leonatti, was arrested on the charge of being keeper of a disorderly house and one woman and three men patrons were also arrested. This case was likewise set before Judge Ward at the station.

Uncover Still In River Grove

Thursday, January 10, at about 5 p. m. Lieut. Laird and a squad of picked men from the C. C. highway police station, raided a large still on Leyden and Wrightwood avenues in the village of River Grove, Ill. Here they confiscated 1,000 gallons of mash, 100 gallons of finished alcohol and one 200-gallon boiler in operation. This still had been in operation but a short time when it was discovered by Lieut. Laird. One prisoner was seized and arrested, Joe Caputo, 908 So. Wood street, Chicago, Illinois. He was released on $500 cash bond set by U. S. commissioner Walker, whom the case was set before, after being turned over to the government. The still was destroyed by Lieut. Laird and his wrecking crew and the necessary evidence was turned over to the U. S. government.

Locate Tunnel

The next place raided by Lieut. Laird and his squad, was the "White House" on Chicago road east of Elgin, Illinois. Here, January 12, Lieut. Laird, August Hambricht, two women and three men were arrested on charge of keeping a disorderly house. The White House is a large, roomy building and a tunnel leads from the basement out into the open field about one block away, and before the lieutenant discovered this tunnel some of the patrons succeeded in escaping thru same.

Ever since Lieutenant Laird has had charge of the first district, he has labored diligently to drive out gambling resorts, dens of vice and moonshiners in an effort to keep up the respectability of the territory in his charge, and he has been rewarded in having and keeping this district the cleanest of the three. He is ever on the alert and whenever anything is discovered he is right on the job. And no small share of credit is due the efficient staff of officers serving under Lieutenant Laird for their part in these cleanup movements.

Although alterations are to be expected in the police department due to the recent election, it is sincerely hoped that the change in the head of this section of the highway police department may be overlooked and Lieutenant Laird may be kept right here for the citizens of district No. 1, appreciate the energetic work of Lieut. Laird and his staff in having and keeping this district the cleanest of the three.

River Grove Man Protests Delay On 54

The following item appeared in the Chicago Tribune in the motor section of their paper Sunday, January 13. We heartily agree with Mr. Thieme of River Grove, and hope that his interest in this matter will expedite its completion. This last year has seen some very poor roads in the Chicago area and work done on the different roads, another place that might be mentioned is the Irving Park Boulevard bridge, also a patch of about ten feet at the intersection of Irving Park and River road.

Protect At Delay
River Grove, Ill., Jan. 12.—I wish to protest at the delay in paving state route No. 54 from Des Plaines river bridge to River road. This section of their paper Sunday, Jan. 13, states that the widening of River road has closed at times all bridges over the Des Plaines river from Lawrence avenue to Lake street.

Beautiful Fur.

The black racoon is considered by some to be the most beautiful of all fur bearers. They are quite scarce and good breeding stock is difficult to obtain. Racoon is well known for its wearing qualities and this fact added to the beauty of the black racoon makes it particularly popular.

MORTON GROVE

Jerusalem Lutheran church will celebrate Holy Communion in English language Jan. 20 and a week from Sunday in the German language, Jan. 28.

Mr. Heribert Bigler entertained the Ladies Aid of Jerusalem Lutheran church, Jan. 16. The time was spent playing buncos.

The Ladies Aid of Jerusalem Lutheran church will give a bakery sale, Jan. 26. Here is a chance for the good housewife to take it easy Saturday and yet have something for hubby and the kiddies.

Jerusalem Lutheran church will hold a very important meeting Sunday, Jan. 20, at 2 p. m. All members are expected to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Biegler of Siegel, Ill., are staying with Mrs. Fred Huser, mother of Mrs. Biegler, a few weeks.

Mrs. J. Hoffmann contemplates going to Florida next week for a month or two and leave all the zero weather behind.

Another practice basketball game was taken from Morton Grove Cardinals by the Niles Center Roamers, with a score of 21 to 15. Of course this was only a practice game.

The score was tie at the end of the fourth quarter, with a sum of 13-13. This meant to play off the equal position with another quarter period, which was done with a great deal of excitement, for I thought there was going to be a boxing match during the game. It seemed the referee called a foul on Niles Center and it didn't agree with them, for the whole team and the side lines tried to tell the referee his troubles. This was soon settled with a great deal of argument. But to my estimation, the referee called some fast ones in favor of Niles Center, such as holding for George Wallis, when he had no intentions or wasn't near the man's body.

Listen, folks, you haven't heard, nor seen anything yet, for until you see the game at Northbrook January 18. Don't forget Northbrook has a strong team and the Cardinals need your support, so come out and see this game.

So far I have seen a football soccer and boxing match, so I wonder what the next game will bring. Come out and see for yourself what it will bring. There is always excitement in games like this.

Mrs. Chas. Mueller spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Dyer at Deerfield. Mrs. Dyer has been very sick with the flu.

Edna Denley Jr. broke her arm while at play falling on the icy pavement.

Grandma Sonne celebrated her 92nd birthday Thursday. She had been very well until recently she is weak and under the weather so only a few close relatives helped her celebrate.

The ladies of the arrangement committee of the Welfare club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Mueller to complete plans for the play to be given by the Zenith dramatic club of Chicago.

Sophronia's Wedding, a small town comedy will be given at the new school hall at Morton Grove January 31. We expect a big turnout as it will offer you a good time and laugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Biegler who spent the past two weeks with Mrs. Biegler's mother, Mrs. Marie Huser, have returned to their home at Siegel, Ill.

At these meetings growers have the opportunity of hearing all the recent experimental work pertaining to the production of vegetable crops, as well as exchange views on the more practical side of growing crops. Every farmer who grows vegetable crops on a commercial scale is urged to attend. A detailed program will be published in this paper at a later date.

Death Strikes In Same Neighborhood Twice One Evening

The death of James W. Long on Central road about 6 p. m. Wednesday preceded six hours the death of Mrs. Edward Altenburg. Thus, almost simultaneously did the Grim Reaper enter the homes of these two neighbors, removing from one the beloved wife and from the other the kind father and provider, but leaving in both pangs of sorrow and deep wounds which only time can heal.

Mr. Long had been ill about two months, suffering from dropsy and kidney trouble, having hitherto enjoyed general good health. Changes in his condition were apparent from time to time and the last week a decided improvement was noticeable. However, eight hours prior to his death he lapsed into unconsciousness and very quietly passed away. He had reached the age of 58 years.

James W. Long, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John William Long, was born February 20, 1870 on the old Long homestead on Central road, in the township of Maine. Here he spent practically all of his life except for the early years of his boyhood which he spent at Geneva, Ill., where he attended the graded school. He completed his education at Des Plaines. In 1898, married Miss Nellie Bogenschultz for a time they lived at Glenview, meanwhile keeping up the work on the farm. In 1916 he built a new, modern bungalow on the farm vacating the homestead for his eldest son, Homer, who with his family still occupy same. A second son, Warren is also married and has a responsible position with the Jacobson Motor Co., at Park Ridge.

Mr. Long enjoyed the work on his farm and was ever on the alert to learn and supply new methods to improve the industry. He was well known for miles around and was always ready to meet a friend half way and do anything he could to lend a hand or give advice where needed.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 12 at 2 p. m., where surrounded by heaps of beautiful flowers, "Jim" as he was known to his friends, lay in silent dignity while a comforting sermon was delivered by Rev. Fangor of the Methodist church of Glenview. Two choristers of the same church sang appropriate songs to organ accompaniment.

Acting pall bearers were Chas. and John Dearlove, George Clark, Robert Snyder, Earl Hutchings and Henry Kriem. Burial at beautiful Ridgewood with Walter C. Oehler, the officiating funeral director.

With the sorrowing widow left to mourn Mr. Long's passing are his two sons Homer and Warren, two daughters-in-law, five grandchildren, many cousins and other relatives in addition to many friends.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and at the time of the death of our dear husband and father, also for the beautiful floral offerings; to Rev. Fangor for his comforting sermon and the singers for their lovely numbers.

Mrs. James W. Long and family

Mrs. Mary Landwehr Departs From This Life

Mrs. Mary Landwehr was called into the beyond on January 10, having reached the age of 64 years. She was born in Northfield Twp. in the year 1864 and her entire life she lived in this neighborhood. She received her early religious instruction in the Northfield church and was also confirmed there. In the year 1891 she entered holy matrimony with George P. Landwehr at St. Peter's church. This was their church home for the rest of their lives. Their union was blessed with four children, one having preceded the parents into the beyond in infancy. Together they labored in this vicinity and many days of sunshine and happiness were granted them. We feel assured that their dark days were brightened and lightened by their faith in the Lord. On February 9, 1910 the departed went through great darkness when the companion of her life received the summons into the beyond. She often referred to this loss of hers. The last years her home was with her son, Arthur, and daughter, Baby. They were great comfort to her and her daughter especially gave herself in devoted service to her mother during the last two years of her life during which time the departed had been more or less infirm.

She belonged to the "quiet in the land" and because of her patient, subservient and uncomplaining attitude most of us were unaware of her real serious condition. We feel assured that her faith was confidently anchored in the Lord. The day before passing she partook of the Lord's Supper and she was prepared for the final summons.

There live to mourn her departure, the three children, Robert of Bensenville, Ill., Arthur and Ruby who have been with the mother all of their lives. Two brothers, Fred Kerkman and Henry Kerkman both located at Masena, Iowa. For the last two weeks they had been with their sick sister. One half-brother, John Kerkman of Northfield. Two grandchildren, three step-sisters and three step-brothers.

Many more relatives and friends hold her in loving memory. Funeral services were held Saturday at 1:30 from the house. Interment was at St. Peter Cemetery.

Mrs. Knabe and daughter, Mrs. Rosenkranz, left Friday by auto, for Florida, to spend several months.

The Willing Workers of St. Peter's Evangelical church, had 71 guests present at the Food Craft Shop luncheon given Wednesday at 1222 Wilson avenue, Chicago. The food was palatable and the ladies attending had a very pleasant social time.

Woman's Benefit Concert At Niles Center School

Six hundred invitations, in the form of tickets, have been sent to as many families in Niles Center, inviting them, and their friends, to attend and enjoy the concert to be given in the public school gymnasium, Monday, January 21, at 8 p. m. The concert which is being sponsored by the School Welfare Club and the Niles Center Women's Club, will be rendered by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company chorus of sixty female voices.

The chorus is under the direction of Dr. Daniel Brotherton, and the accompanist is Robert MacDonell of Chicago. Members of the two clubs, which are sponsoring the concert, are looking forward to a large crowd, because of the fact that entertainment of this kind is a rare treat in Niles Center.

If you do not have one of the 600 tickets, you are especially invited, through the Herald. Come whether you have a ticket or not. A glance at the program which follows will convince the readers that the club ladies have arranged to give to the people of Niles Center, a real musical treat.

Death Claims East Maine Matron In Prime of Life

The cold, icy hand of death was again felt in East Maine when it entered the Edward Altenberg home on Golf Avenue and quietly removed the soul of the household, Mary, the beloved wife of Mr. Altenberg, who was just 42 years of age. Why a dear wife and sister just in the prime of life should be suddenly wrenched from the side of her husband and from the midst of loving relatives and friends is a question unanswerable to mere reason. Mrs. Altenberg became ill Dec. 30, 1928, but with loving care and expert medical attention her condition appeared to be improving.

who she was wrenched a stroke which resulted in her death shortly after midnight January 9.

Mary Ahrenfeld, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ahrenfeld, was born in the town of Maine, Cook county, Illinois, April 6, 1886. She spent practically all of her life in this community, attending the Maine public school and also the St. Matthews Lutheran school from which she was confirmed in the Lutheran faith March 26, 1899. She was also an interested member of the former St. Matthews choir.

October 11, 1913 she became the bride of Mr. Edward Altenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Altenberg and they settled on the farm on Golf Ave., where they were living at the time of her death. The two children born to this union both died at birth.

They devoted their time to the industry of truck farming and were steady patrons of the Elston Farmers Market since its opening, most from a decade ago. Mrs. Altenberg enjoyed the distinction of being the only woman in the entire community who operated a vegetable stand, assisting her husband to dispose of the produce he hauled there for sale. She seemed to enjoy the work and made many friends whom her cheering personality will be sadly missed.

Mrs. Altenberg had been a member of St. Matthews Ladies' Aid since 1924 and was one of the most diligent and ardent workers, at all times ready to lend a helping hand. Although it seems hard to realize that she had gone, her absence will be keenly felt by the ladies at their meetings and other aid functions.

Funeral services were held Sunday, Jan. 13, 1929 at 1:30 p. m., at the house and 2 o'clock in St. Matthews church of which the deceased had been a faithful member. Addressing the huge assemblage that had gathered from far and in both the German and English languages and building this sermon on the words of St. Paul, "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain." Rev. J. Toepel spoke words of comfort to bereaved mourners and told of the life of the deceased as one being filled with loving deeds and kindnesses and a friendly smile and word for all. Every one knew that Rev. Toepel's eulogy was true.

As their final act of service for their beloved member, the Ladies' Aid sang, "Wo findet die Seele die Heimat, die Ruh?" and also carried the numerous beautiful floral tributes. Six neighbors, Henry Koch, Wm. Mueller, Louis Kref, George Engel, Henry Pries and Hans Poehls were the pall bearers. Burial at Ridgewood by Oehler and Lauterburg, funeral directors.

Left to mourn her loss, her sorrowing husband, are two sisters, Mrs. Emma Schoenbeck and Mrs. John Schwing, and two brothers, Henry and John Ahrensfield and many other relatives and hosts of friends. Mr. Ahrensfield is accorded the deepest sympathy of the entire Community.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express heartfelt thanks and appreciation to neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown me during the illness and at the death of my beloved wife, to Rev. Toepel for his comforting sermon, the ladies aid for their kind services, and to all who sent the beautiful floral tributes.

Edward Altenberg

MRS. MARGARET HARRER

Mrs. Margaret Harter, nee Scherer, an early settler of Niles Center, was born Oct. 22, 1836 at Ziesch, Kreis Ties, Germany. She came to Niles Center in 1851 and was married to Michael Harter, Oct. 29, 1855 at Gross Point by Rev. Koch. Their union was blessed with 12 children. Her husband died May 9, 1907. Four sons and one daughter preceded their mother in death. She went through all the hardships of the old settlers with a large family. Her lot was no easy one. With the help of God in whom she faithfully trusted, she performed all her motherly duties, while at the same time she seldom failed to attend church. She also passed through many cases of sickness. The last eight years especially were burdensome. After a fall on a cement walk, one eye was injured and within a year she lost her entire eye sight. Though under the best of care by her daughter and granddaughter, and greatly loved and honored by all her children, she longed to go to her eternal home. After a short illness this was granted her early last Sunday morning. She died at the age of 92 years, 2 months, 20 days. Mourned by 7 children: Henry Harter, Margaret Meyer, Mary Baumbard, Jacob Harter, Lizzie Harter, Louise Olk and Peter Harter; 53 grand children; 78 great grandchildren, a number of relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, Jan. 16, at the home and at St. Peter's Evangelical church, Rev. J. J. Mayer officiating. Interment by funeral director Mr. Haben in St. Peter's Catholic cemetery next to her husband's grave.

SCHILLER PARK GETS WELFARE STATION ALSO

Opening Will be February 5; Legion Sponsors Health Project

Thanks to the public spirit of Fred Neuman Post of the American Legion, Schiller Park is to have an infant welfare station sponsored by the Cook County Department of Health. Tuesday, February 5, will be the opening day for this health center which will be located in the Schiller Park village hall. The station has been organized for the purpose of aiding in child care and Schiller Park mothers are looking forward with happy anticipation to its opening. Mrs. Ferguson Flynn is in charge and under her able direction the project promises to be a most successful one. The station will be open every Tuesday from one to three o'clock and a cordial invitation is being extended to all mothers to attend, bringing children from the tiniest baby to the tot in first grade. Advice on feeding and weight will be given and an individual record kept of each child's progress. Doctor Leslie Dougherty of the Health Department will be in attendance to advise the mothers and aid them in attaining perfect health for their children.

Franklin Park Has Fine Record
Five hundred and seventy-nine children are registered at the station in Franklin Park where welfare work has become one of the most prominent of the community projects. Maintained by the Franklin Park Women's Club, the station has made splendid progress and is a credit to the village. Every Wednesday which is "Welfare Day" a large group of mothers and children seek the advice and aid which the station has to offer. Weekly trips there give the mothers an accurate account of the children's progress and are a means of finding how to correct any health deficiencies.

Welfare Parties Help
Every year the mothers and children of Franklin Park join in an annual Welfare Party, held in celebration of the years success. At this event a medal is awarded the mother having the best attendance record for the year, as disclosed by the register at the station. The Franklin Park station was formerly located in the village hall, but is now located in Ernst Siebold's real estate office on Franklin avenue. Gay health posters on the wall and artistic products of the grade school students in the windows lend cheer while immaculate white tables and scales and trimly attired nurses provide the needed medical atmosphere.

Club Shows Interest
Welfare work is a regular part of the Women's Club's program and a special committee headed by Mrs. Ferguson Flynn has charge. Lectures on health by leading county authorities are given at the meetings and plans executed for the furthering of the success of the work. Needy mothers are aided by the club, while those mothers who need only advice can receive it at every Wednesday at the welfare station.

One of the most, if not the most, attractive and popular booth at the recent carnival was that maintained by the welfare organization. There were nurses in attendance and a bright new gift for every little boy and girl who was weighed and measured. It is the hope of its sponsors that the new station in Schiller Park may prove as successful as the one in Franklin Park, and judging by the hearty cooperation of the Legion and the welcome reception of the mothers, their hopes will be fulfilled.

Melrose Park Mayor Faces Trial Monday

Monday Mayor Gus Bohlander, president of the village board of Melrose Park went on trial with 75 other defendants for infractions of the prohibition law, before Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell. After a year ago 100 stills and large quantities of alcohol were seized by prohibition agents in Melrose Park. The mayor and some of the other defendants will be represented in court by attorney Chas. Rathbun. Assistant United States Attorney D. Anderson states that the village officials knew of the law violations but took no action to bring the lawbreakers to justice.

Joe Montana, one of the defendants is the alleged head of the syndicate. Mayor Bohlander states that this case implicating him and other village officials is a frame up by political enemies of theirs to bring the present board and president into bad repute.

Several months ago 102 defendants were indicted in the case, since that time five have died, three have pleaded guilty and eighteen have not been apprehended.

BETTER GRADE CROSSINGS FOR DU PAGE FOLKS

At a meeting of the Du Page County supervisors and representatives of the different towns of the county at the county court house Friday evening, ways and means were discussed for the proper protection of railroad grade crossings.

The rising death toll at railroad grade crossings has stirred the county board of commissioners to immediate action, and in order to get the views of the different municipalities they offered an open invitation to all the president of the board of trustees of the meeting and offer suggestions as to the best way to remedy the grade crossing condition.

Many Remedies
Perhaps the best solution to the problem is to have the grade crossings either viaducted, or use subways, however this is very expensive solution and in many cases the railroad would absolutely refuse to go to this great expense. Matter of signal lighting was discussed and it was pointed out that as many times these lights become out of order, and are flashing when no trains are in sight. A very logical solution was offered, whereby each and every railroad crossing would be the same as a stop street, and it would become necessary for each and every car approaching a railroad grade crossing to stop. If a motorist should fail to heed this law, he would be subject to immediate arrest. This system is at present worked out in Minnesota, and has added much to lessen the death toll at grade crossings in that state. There were about 75 representatives of the different towns and villages present, Bensenville, Itasca, Roseville, Bloomingdale Addition, and other DuPage county towns furnishing a representative.

It was pointed out that there were 93 grade crossings in Du Page County, and of these 30 were considered as dangerous, and needed extra precaution. In order to unify the working of the different towns, plans were started whereby a solid organization could be formed, which would enable the county supervisors to work in harmony, and with the assistance of, the different public spirited men of the different communities.

Announce Engagement Of Franklin Park Lady

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buttens have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marie Magdalen, to Harold Glidden. Both of the young folks are popular Franklin Parkers and are well known and liked in the younger set. Harold Glidden is the son of Mrs. Fred Brewster of this village.

The date for the wedding has not as yet been announced, but it will most likely occur sometime in February.

Mrs. Caroline Franzen Was Buried Thursday

Mrs. Caroline Franzen of Bensenville died at her home on Wood Street 4 a. m. Monday, January 14, after 15 weeks of illness. Everything was done to sustain her life, but to no avail, the best medical talent in the district being called in for consultation. But God in His infinite mercy decreed that she must pass to the eternal rest of heaven.

The funeral services were conducted from the Frieden's church Thursday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in the family lot in the Frieden's cemetery. Mrs. Franzen is survived by her beloved husband, Henry D. Franzen and mother, Mrs. Violet Gansburg.

With the passing of Mrs. Franzen goes one of Bensenville's most beloved women, who was always active in the community, and especially in the Frieden's church, her willing hand always being counted on to assist in the many church activities, also the community work of Bensenville. In next week's Register you will find the complete obituary.

He was born in Chicago January 7, 1903, making his home within the Chicago district most of his life.

River Grove Politics; New Ticket in Field

The first political movement for River Grove for the March election was opened this week with the announcement of the first ticket. Rumors have been prevalent for the last few weeks who would be running the coming election to fill the office of village president and three trustees, this will start the ball rolling, and the River Grove folks are waiting now for the next move. The ticket announced is as follows:

Dan. Gillen for president.
Wm. Norton village trustee.
Joe. Keating village trustee.
Matt Hess village trustee.

Mrs. Fred W. Landmeier Funeral Will Be Sunday

Mrs. Fred W. Landmeier died Wednesday, Jan. 16. The funeral will be held Sunday at 1:30 at the residence with services at St. John's church, near Bensenville.

200 New Homes For Westwood

When Mills & Son, developers of the Westwood subdivision first started operation, there was much speculation as to just how far they would go with this new suburb of Chicago. Some predicted that a few homes would be built, but no one outside of the Mills & Sons organization ever thought it would grow as it has the last two years.

Last week the company announced they would start at once the construction of 200 new homes, which would be completed before the summer was over, these will be of the brick bungalow type, and will comprise five rooms. Two new buildings on the Business Circle facing Westwood Park are already under construction, and in the very near future the Mill & Sons Company expect to have the entire 1600 homes completed, that was the goal set for this development.

Franklin Park Mayor At Springfield Inaugural

Mayor Ernest Siebold of Franklin Park was one of the Franklin Park delegates at the inauguration of Governor Emmerson at Springfield.

While strolling thru the Leland hotel he discovered he was not the only Franklin Park present, as he met Mr. and Mrs. Walter Witort of the Park, who had motored down taking Bishop Axel Frel down for the opening of the house of representatives, where he serves in an official capacity.

Number 9 of a Series on *Metropolitan Chicago

—showing why Metropolitan Chicago has every possibility of becoming the world's foremost Metropolitan center—in population as well as in trade importance—and that in a day relatively near.

METROPOLITAN CHICAGO—HUB OF AMERICA'S AIRWAYS

If anyone doubts that air travel is today an established and important factor in American transportation, let him but study the heavy lines on the above map.

Daily scheduled mail, express and passenger service is now being operated over 16,486 miles of airways in the United States, and the planes in service over these airways travel 38,902 miles daily, of which 20,098 miles are scheduled to and from Chicago.

Travel by air has logically established its hub in *Metropolitan Chicago, the great central metropolis, close to the geographic centers of population, manufacture and agriculture. Chicago is the world's foremost railroad center, the world's largest inland port, and the central link in America's vast chain of motor highways—affording unequalled facilities for interconnection between air and other transportation.

The volume of air mail and express handled in Chicago is more than double that handled in any other city, and Chicago's Municipal Airport [at Sixty-third Street and Cicero Avenue] is the busiest commercial airport in the United States. In December, 1928—a winter month—landings and take-offs during daylight hours were made at this field on an average of almost every three minutes!

Chicago now has thirty-six scheduled arrivals and departures of mail, passenger and express planes every day, a number exceeded only at Tempelhof Airport, Berlin, Germany. The Chicago Municipal Airport was officially opened just a year ago last December. Yet it is expected that the present field will be outgrown before next summer is over. Already plans have been made to double the area of the field, affording quadrupled accommodations. In addition to the Municipal Airport, Metropolitan Chicago has more than a dozen other active aviation fields.

A proposal is now receiving consideration, and appears likely of adoption, for the building of another airport on the lake front at Sixteenth Street, just ten minutes distant from the Loop... Chicago's position with reference to air transportation is another important factor adding to Chicago's progress toward becoming the world's greatest metropolitan center.

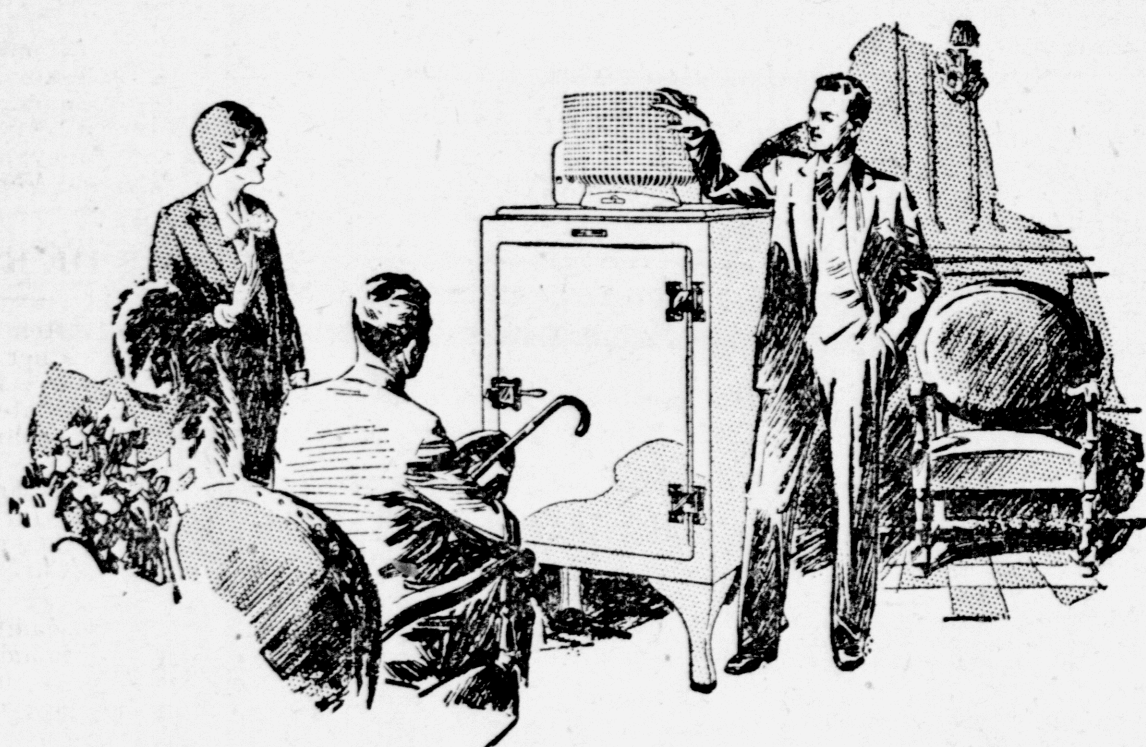

This series on Metropolitan Chicago, when completed, will be bound in booklet form. Address Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, 72 W. Adams St., Chicago, and a copy will be reserved for you. There will be no charge.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Supplying Electricity and Gas to 6,000 square miles, including the Metropolitan Area into which Chicago is growing.

All the machinery is on top—you never see it, never oil it, barely hear it

All the machinery is on top—do you realize the importance of this simple statement? This achievement is the result of fifteen years of painstaking research to determine the simplest, the most efficient design. It has made the General Electric Refrigerator one of the outstanding engineering accomplishments of recent times.

All the mechanism, together with a permanent supply of oil, is contained in an hermetically sealed steel casing. Here it is safe from dust and difficulties. This distinctively electric refrigerator operates so quietly you can scarcely hear it. It is plugged into any convenience outlet as simply as an electric iron—there is no plumbing, soldering or wiring to be done.

For a quarter century, ever since the home of Wooddale branched out from the general store at the crossroads, residents of this village have driven their horses and best buggies, and later their automobiles to Itasca, Bensenville, or Elmhurst to attend church. Next Sunday they will drive or walk just a few blocks to the only church the village has ever had.

Wooddale residents met last summer with the Rev. Mr. Gronewald, who is also pastor of the Evangelical Community church in Itasca, and appointed a building committee to take charge of the construction of a church on a plot of ground donated by George Fink, a Wooddale farmer. With the limited capital of $2,500 the committee's first step was to purchase and move an old parochial school building to Wooddale.

Rev. Mr. Gronewald, a carpenter in his younger days, undertook to do much of the remodeling. The pastor, 55 years old, drove from Itasca every morning and personally supervised the construction.

The resultant structure now has a remodeled interior and a modern heating plant.

With the limited capital of $2,500 the committee's first step was to purchase and move an old parochial school building to Wooddale.

Rev. Mr. Gronewald, a carpenter in his younger days, undertook to do much of the remodeling. The pastor, 55 years old, drove from Itasca every morning and personally supervised the construction.

The resultant structure now has a remodeled interior and a modern heating plant.

Wooddale residents met last summer with the Rev. Mr. Gronewald, who is also pastor of the Evangelical Community church in Itasca, and appointed a building committee to take charge of the construction of a church on a plot of ground donated by George Fink, a Wooddale farmer. With the limited capital of $2,500 the committee's first step was to purchase and move an old parochial school building to Wooddale.

Rev. Mr. Gronewald, a carpenter in his younger days, undertook to do much of the remodeling. The pastor, 55 years old, drove from Itasca every morning and personally supervised the construction.

Change in Citizenship
Citizenship has often been conferred on large bodies of people by the annexation of territory as a result of cession or conquest, and it was in this way that the inhabitants of Louisiana, Florida, Texas, Alaska and Hawaii became citizens of the United States. This is known as "naturalization by incorporation."

Indians Didn't Skate.
Skating does not appear to have been known in North America before its colonization by Europeans, though bone slides were used to a limited extent by certain Eskimo tribes.

PROPOSALS OF INTEREST TO COOK DUPAGE

Two highway improvements, one being asked of Cook county by DuPage county, and the other of DuPage county by Cook county officials are on foot in the western suburbs of Chicago. The Chicago Western Suburbs association is working with commissioners of both counties to obtain these improvements.

The board of supervisors of DuPage county recently recommended that commissioners of Cook county begin work toward establishing three 200 foot highways to connect with concrete roads of that size for which DuPage county has recently made provision.

Ask Quick Action on Land.
Construction of these roads was favored by the Chicago Regional Planning association, to which the project was recently referred, and the commission had recommended that the right-of-way be subdivided designated so that subdivisions will allow 200 feet for the road in planning their plots.

The project is now up for action by the board of commissioners of Cook county, to whom the matter was referred by the roads and bridges committee. If the commissioners act on the recommendation of DuPage county supervisors, they will construct roads on North avenue, 22nd street, and 75th street, ending at the county line and meeting with the west end of DuPage county roads.

Urges Patrol in Du Page.
DuPage county supervisors are being asked by Cook county commissioners and by the suburbs association to take action for the organization of a highway police force comparable to that now in existence in Cook county.

Newly elected officers for the association are: President, Harry Auspitz; treasurer, E. B. Graham; and secretary, John A. Cervanka, Jr.

A new insurance company sponsored by the Illinois Farm Bureau, and the Illinois Agricultural Association, shows petitions for $11,000,000 worth of insurance, which comes from the farmers throughout the state.

This company will not be in legal operation until February 1, but this large subscription already received is ample guaranty of a prosperous life for this company. It has the endorsement of the DuPage County Farm Bureau, through county adviser, E. A. Carnecross.

Mr. Carnecross also called to our attention the fact that over 500 DuPage farmers have auto insurance in the Illinois Agricultural Mutual Insurance Co. Which goes to show what the farm bureau is doing for our farmers.

Honor Won by Ireland
This name, "Insula Sanctiorum et Doctorum," was applied to Ireland in the early Middle Ages because of the number of missionaries and learned men who left the country to evangelize and teach the people of western Europe.

NORTHFIELD

This is genuine old-fashioned winter weather.

The automobiles are causing the owners plenty of grief. Yet the mode of travelling beats team and sleighs all the time.

We hear of sleighing parties these days. It is real sport for a change and whets one's appetite.

Those who have been on the sick list are improving. At last reports, everyone seems to enjoy good health.

The Women's Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Brown, near Palatine, Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. M. G. visited his parents in Canada during the holidays. He reported mild weather in the Ontario state.

Miss Vera Burchum of Elliott's Town, Illinois, is a guest of Mrs. John Dobbins and other friends.

Miss Harriet Koehler returned home after a visit at Elmhurst and Chicago.

Mr. Ed. Witt underwent a second operation since Christmas for the amputation of his leg. His other leg was taken off in the fall. He is recovering nicely and is in good spirits despite his suffering.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Courtney are home after a visit with his relatives in Des Plaines.

I. N. Bubert and family are having old friends visit them from northern North Dakota.

Word was received here of the marriage of Mrs. Vesta Davis and Mr. Ellsworth Stroud on January 7. They reside at 1042 Woodlawn avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Miss Lura Garrett, a former teacher here, but now west of Palatine, was recently married to Mr. Roy Treevin, who operates the garage at River Road and Milwaukee avenue. They are making their home in Palatine at present. Heartiest congratulations to this popular couple.

The Young People's circle met at the home of Curtis Dobbins Monday evening. Twenty-one were present. After the business meeting the social hour of games followed. Everyone enjoyed the evening and delicious lunch immensely.

The funeral services of Mr. Christ Wendling was held at the Northfield church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. M. G. Geil officiating. Burial in Wheeling cemetery.

Curtis Dobbins is the proud possessor of a new Chevrolet coach. The annual meeting of the church was held Friday evening. Election of the trustees and officers was held. Mr. I. N. Bubert to fill the vacancy and Mr. Harry Johnson for the five year term. Mrs. John Croft, Class Leader, Mrs. Bubert, Pianist.

Mrs. Emily Keavy
Mrs. Emily Keavy aged 80 years, died at her home 7122 Greenwood avenue, Chicago, January 10. Buried at Eden cemetery, January 12. She was the mother of Richard Keavy and Mrs. Nyrine Tompkins, who lived in Schiller Park a long time. Mrs. Keavy made her home with them when they lived here and made many friends who missed her helping hand when she moved to Chicago with her children. May her soul rest in peace.

EAST MAINE

The annual meeting of St. Matthews Lutheran congregation which was postponed Sunday afternoon because of the funeral services held for Mrs. Edward Altenberg, will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 20 at 2 p. m.

At the regular meeting of St. Matthews Ladies Aid held Thursday, Jan. 10, the annual election of officers took place. The following ladies were re-elected to their respective offices: President, Miss Alvina Beto; vice president, Mrs. Henry Koch; secretary, Mrs. Julius Toepel; treasurer, Mrs. Ehler Kath, Jr.; Executive board, Mrs. Fred Finnem and Mrs. John Ahrensfeld.

A successful and progressive year was reported. Plans had previously been laid to have a buncos party among themselves at this meeting in honor of Mrs. Henry Koch, their vice president, whose 25th wedding anniversary occurred that day. But due to the sadness in the aid, caused by the loss of one of their members, these plans were abandoned.

Mrs. Koch, however, was presented with a beautiful silver relish set of four pieces in honor of the occasion.

Here is a bit of news that many folks have been looking for. St. Matthews choir announce their annual entertainment which they will give February 8, 9 and 10, in the school hall as usual. Plans have been laid and preparations are afoot to make this the best and most enjoyable program yet presented. Tickets are out, retailing at 50c and 25c each. Get yours early so to be sure you will have one and remember this. Come prepared to laugh for "a laugh a minute" is the slogan announced by the committee in charge.

The fifth annual Truck Growers' Schools will be held the week of January 28-Feb. 1, inclusive under the auspices of the Illinois University Horticultural Department in co-operation with the Truck Gardeners Association, the Cook County Farm Bureau and the Illinois National History Survey. The schools have proven so successful in the past that requests have been made to conduct a similar school at LaGrange. This request has been complied with and the individual dates will be as follows: In East Maine, in St. Matthews school hall, Milwaukee avenue near Ballard road, Monday and Tuesday, January 28 and 29; in LaGrange, Wednesday, January 30, and in Blue Island, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. The speakers on the program will be announced next week but rest assured that the most interesting program possible, will be provided and subjects of vital importance will be explained to the farmers attending. The school will start at 10 a. m. and St. Matthews Ladies Aid will again serve one of their famous hot dinners at noon. These meetings are free of charge and open to all so come and reap the benefits you may derive from the talks delivered.

Color of Glass.
The bureau of standards says that the purple color in glass is supposed to be due to a change of condition in the manganese content of the glass, which is a coloring oxide under certain conditions. This is supposed to be caused by certain rays of the sun which produce a difference in the degree of oxidation of the manganese present.

"Taps"
The words to "Taps" are: "Love, good night, West thou go. When the day And the night need thee so. All is well. Speedeth all To their rest. Fades the light. And Afar Goeth day. And the Stars Shineh bright. Fare thee well, Day has gone, Night is on."

To Bath.
The expression "Go to Bath" arose from an omission in an act of parliament. It authorized grants to send sick persons to Bath for the waters, but made no provision for their return. The result was that many had to remain there. So "Go to Bath" is an uncomplimentary invitation to go away and stay away.—London Tit-Bits.

WHEELING DEPARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Utpatel and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Warnecke are spending several months in the south.

Mr. Julius Spitzbart has been confined to his home with the "flu" during the past week. Having sold their property near Naperville, the Clifford Vanderwerker family have been staying with his parents here, until finding a new location.

Mr. Leo Karcher was discovered dead in the Hechinger home on Friday morning. Death overtook him by way of a heart stroke, several days before his demise was made known. After the inquest the body was removed to Chicago where services were held and interment made.

Mrs. H. G. Gemmill entertained a group of friends at bridge last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. Galitz was hostess to a group of friends at a five hundred party held at their home on Monday evening.

Don't forget the oyster and baked ham supper to be given by the P. T. A. at the school on Thursday, Jan. 24. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. Adults, 65c; children, 35c, a plate. This will be followed by a social evening at cards and bunco for an additional fee of 35 and 15 cents.

Miss Lorraine Utpatel and Miss Charlotte Erickson are boarding in Chicago with Mrs. Otto Brauns, while attending Metropolitan Business College.

A baby girl, Elaine Amanda, is a new arrival at the John Brumm home this week. The baby was born Thursday, Jan. 10, and mother and baby are faring well.

Mr. E. J. Welfin accompanied his uncle, Mr. Albert Sauer, of Long Grove, to Fairmont, Minn., to attend the funeral of his aunt there this week.

Mrs. Albert Karth has been ill at her home here the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barrett attended the inauguration of Governor Emerson at Springfield on Monday.

Mr. C. Wendling, the last of the Civil war veterans of this community, left to join the ranks of his comrades on the "other side" last Friday. He had been residing with his son, William, at Des Plaines for the winter. The obituary will be found elsewhere in this paper.

The members of Bluebird Troop girl scouts enjoyed an evening at the home of one of their troop members, Ardath Miller, on Tuesday of this week. The evening passed quickly while playing bunco, after which Ardath's uncle furnished music for those who cared to dance for a short while. Delicious refreshments were served and the party was dismissed reluctantly at about 10 o'clock, all having had a delightful evening.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wheeling State Bank was held at the stated time on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Hotopp and baby son, Kenneth, motored to Chicago Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. Leon Karcher. Church services were held at Our Lady of Mercy, where high Mass was given and burial at St. Boniface cemetery.

Wheeling hospital was visited by the stock several times during the past week. On Friday, Jan. 11, Helen Rae Long was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Long of Glenview; a 7 lb. baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pagels of Northbrook on Monday, Jan. 14. Both mothers and their babies are doing nicely.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Vilma Bank In "The Awakening"

"The Awakening," Samuel Goldwyn's first starring vehicle for Vilma Banky, which comes Saturday, January 19, to the Paradise, Uptown and Tivoli theatres, is one of those pictures which prove again that simplicity of story and beauty of production are, after all, the best recipes for a good picture. It has all the romantic ardor, the thrills, and the pictorial effect which make it entertainment of the very first order.

The role of Marie Ducret, belle of a little Alsatian village just before the late war, gives her an opportunity to display a vivacious streak in her nature which has not fully been brought out in her past pictures; and in the great emotional scenes, when she, about to become a nun, is encountered by her old lover in the convent, and when she is whipped and stoned through the village streets by the infuriated peasants, she rises to emotional heights which she has never before attained, excellent as she has been in the past.

Supervising this stupendous new idea in entertainment is Frank Cambria, who has been associated in stage production work with Balaban & Katz ever since the opening of the Riviera theater in 1918. Just home from Europe where he observed the latest developments in stagecraft, Cambria, in association with H. Leopold Spitalny, director of music, will produce two large productions on the opening week's program. In these lavish creations, larger than anything before, B & K theaters have shown before, there will be over 100 people on the stage, choruses of trained voices, soloists, ballets, new uses of color lighting and extraordinary costuming.

With Mr. Spitalny arranging new music patterns and Mr. Cambria employing radically new lighting effects, the first of these productions will be Tschakowsky's "1812" in which Moscow will be seen to burn in immense, impressionistic style. Street-mobs will rush thru the burning city, singing, and ballets will dance before Napoleon. The second of the productions will be "In Old Seville," an ultra-modern creation by Cambria in which throngs of Spanish dancers, singers, bull-fighters, will be seen in Goya costumes, vivid, exotic and transformed by the elaborate electrical wizardry for which Cambria is famous.

On the same program the Chicago theater will present the talking picture, "The Redeeming Sin," with Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagel. This production is a romance of Parisian Apache life, sumptuously staged and with its talking sequences dramatized as only Vitaphone can present them.

Billie Dove At

Norshore Next Week

Two of the screen's most compelling interpreters of the soft passion are Billie Dove and Antonio Moreno who appear in the former's starring picture for First National, "Adoration," which comes Saturday, January 19, to the Norshore theater.

There are numerous scenes of fervid emotion in this story of Russia and France in the days of revolution and afterwards. There are a prince and princess of France, they are torn apart when the red tide flows over the land and thru an error, he believes her unfaithful. In the end it all results in happiness, even when the luxuries to which they have been accustomed have been stripped away.

In the moments of love, there is a realism that reaches sublime heights of passion and stamps the beautiful star and the handsome leading man as perfect exponents of emotionalism in pictures.

Al Kvale and his jazz collegians will hold the stage in a breezy, sea-going frolic, "Up on Deck!" The unit comes from the Oriental theater, with the cast remaining intact, to delight North side patrons.

"Terror" Thrills With Sound at McVickers

Shudders, shocks, shots and hysterical snickers, characters that are so compelling that one sympathizes with their humorous plight in spite of one's self, situations so spooky that they seem the composite of all the ghost stories published. That is the impression which "The Terror," Warner Bros.' latest all-talking picture, coming to the McVickers theater Monday, January 21, makes on its hearers.

"Healers" is the correct word, for Vitaphone catches and registers every sound as well as sight in this screen transcription of Edgar Wallace's famous play.

Vitaphone has never been so marvelously vindicated as in this amazingly creepy importation from England. No one who likes amusement—and the modern development in amusement—should fail to see and hear "The Terror."

"Abie's Irish Rose"

Comes to Roosevelt

Nancy Carroll, the popular player who essays the role of Rosemary in the picture of Anne Nichols' "Abie's Irish Rose," coming Monday, January 21, to the Roosevelt theater, will be heard singing the theme song "Rosemary" in the film. By virtue of the film being synchronized with Sound and talking, audiences will be given the opportunity to witness an exceptional performance.

She sings two Irish songs, and also goes through a clog waltz routine, the taps of which are said to be exceptionally distinct, giving an added thrill to the sequence.

"Scarlet Seas"

At Oriental

Despite the wintry weather we have been having in Chicago, Brooke and his gang, ever on the lookout for spring, have deemed it advisable to start their golf practice early. They are going to give their patrons some advice, however early, in the art of playing it.

Amazingly, their next stage show, to be presented beginning Saturday, January 19, at the Oriental theater, will be called "Fore." Brooke has gathered in for this show, a dazzling array of choice girls to act as caddy in this gay practice school. Singing "pros" will be seen with these prancing maids, the production being tuned up to a high degree with Brooke's banjo and the inevitable synopsis of the merry mad musical gang.

Springtime atmosphere, with its alluring loveliness and refreshment, will cause a desire by all for the winter to wane quickly, to be followed by the blossoming season.

"Fore!" will be a delightful presentation, chock full of entrancing talent and melody. "Scarlet Seas," in which film Betty Compton, in all her blonde beauty, plays opposite the youthful star. It is a gripping story of life on the high seas, with Miss Compton as a girl of the ports. The plot is intriguing, with a powerful climax when the men on a Singapore ship mutiny. A powerful romance winds through the weird setting made for it, and is enhanced by an exceptional musical synchronization.

MT. PROSPECT SCHOOL BLDG. IS COMPLETED

Mt. Prospect Lutheran School Building Recognized As One of The Finest

The new Mt. Prospect Lutheran school building, which will be dedicated Sunday, was designed by one of the foremost architects in Chicago and is considered one of the finest of its kind in the Chicago suburbs. It not alone cares for the school needs of the congregation which erected the building, but gives to the community an assembly hall and auditorium that in many respects is not equaled in many towns several times the size of Mt. Prospect.

While the building costs were held down to a minimum, yet there is not a "stingy" thing about the structure. There is spaciousness and building accessories about the structure that provides for a future growth. Wings can be later erected on each end as the need arises. Everything about the building is designed and equipped for the coming generation. There is nothing small about the structure in any way.

In the basement is a play room that is as well finished as any school room. Well lighted, high and dry, it is not really a basement, but a first floor. Upon the second or main floor of the building is located four school rooms that are a whole lot more than just rooms in which school sessions may be held. Commodious cloakrooms adjoining each; there are facilities for individual room libraries while at one end of the building is a school library that will later be properly equipped.

The building has two main entrances, the lobbies of which are of mosaic tile. The hallways are not the orthodox rectangular walls and ceilings, but are arched and give an individuality to the corridors that is in keeping with the rest of the building.

It is the upper floor that is of particular interest to the people of Mt. Prospect and they have reason to be proud of what has been built therein. A hall has a seating capacity for over 500 with a large stage at one end. Upon each side of the stage are to be found ample dressing rooms, something that even many $200,000 high schools do not possess. At the rear of the hall is to be found a commodious kitchen completely equipped with ranges, steam tables, and cupboards. Upon the other side of the entrance is to be found a committee room, seating twenty. There are folding doors between this room and the auditorium which can be opened up thereby increasing the seating capacity of the main room. There is also a projection room. There are rest rooms and other conveniences about this building upon the same large scale as the structure itself. An account more in detail, giving the name of the contractors, building committee, etc., will appear in our next issue with a news account of the dedication.

Chamber of Commerce Holds Regular Meeting

Wednesday evening the C. of C. held its regular monthly meeting with President O. H. Lanckne in the chair.

The secretary read the minutes and the treasurer's report both of which were accepted as read. Reports of the various committees were next heard in this the "Adviser" came up for discussion and several of the members gave direct cases in which they know it brought results.

The following new members were welcomed into the chamber: Wolf Coal & Oil Co., Frank Schott, Boorman & Coughlin and the Suburban Dairy Co.

It was also decided to give the members of the Chamber the first opportunity to become members of the gym class about to be organized.

1929 Decalaminations are on hand and any member can secure them from the secretary for 25 cents each.

The Chamber went on record to assist the Improvement Association in its endeavor to secure a playground for the public school property, with its moral as well as financial support.

The meeting adjourned to meet again the third Wednesday of February.

Albert Wille Forms New Corporation

The first of the year Albert Wille conducted the business he has conducted for the past twenty years to a corporation and the new firm name is A. Wille Lumber & Coal Co.

This is another step forward for Mr. Wille who is always ready to grow and expand his business as rapidly as the village grows.

The Herald congratulated Mr. Wille and his partners in their enterprise and wishes them every success as well as hoping they grow in wonderful fashion.

Improvement Association Holds Meeting Monday

The Improvement Association held its meeting on Monday evening and C. F. Pankonin presided. The most important event of the evening was the setting of the date for the annual banquet which will be February 6, 1929, held at the new St. Paul's auditorium, the charge will be $2.00 per plate.

The Improvement Association is an organization that is of interest to every property owner and it is their civic duty to become members of this body.

The organization also went on record to support a movement for the erection of a playground on the public school property.

law invalid in Tennessee. The court asserted that it had repeatedly declared that a state legislature was without constitutional power to fix prices at which commodities may be sold, services rendered or property used, unless the business or property involved was "affected with a public interest." Its opinion, handed down by Justice Sutherland, to which Justice Holmes dissented, declared that gasoline is one of the ordinary commodities of trade, and that dealing in it, irrespective of its extent, does not affect it with a public interest.

Common poultry diseases have caused serious losses in farm flocks throughout the state since severe winter weather set in. A. D. Smith, chief of the poultry-husbandry division of the state department of agriculture, reports. By way of prevention, Chief Smith advises poultry breeders to retain the best of early hatched broods for breeding stock. "Now," he says, "is the time to guard against this loss next winter, by planning early hatching, and by selecting breeding stock with care from early broods."

Illinois share of $73,125,000 contributed by the federal government to be used by various states in highway construction for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1929, will be $3,184,910. It has been announced by United States Secretary of Agriculture Jardine. Michigan is to receive $2,544,466; Wisconsin $1,854,400, and Indiana $1,917,036.

Soy beans brought Illinois farmers nearly a million dollars more in 1928 than in 1927, and the income from that crop in Illinois has doubled within the past four years, according to the year-end review of farm production issued by the Illinois and United States departments of agriculture. Illinois again ranks first in soy bean production. Analyzing the rapid development of this legume crop, Stillman J. Stanard, director of agriculture, attributes its increasing popularity to extension service and educational methods employed in Illinois. A quarter of a century ago, soy beans were considered a curiosity by farmers, he says, has been an important factor in the 1928 development.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom and his family have moved from Alledo to the Capital City and will reside there during Mr. Carlstrom's term with the state.

Early reports from the limestone quarries indicate that Illinois farmers used more than 700,000 tons of limestone in 1928 says the Illinois Agricultural association. While only half of the total tonnage figures are in from the 22 companies under contract with I. A. A., these reports show that the 1928 tonnage when finally determined will be exceeded by that of 1925 when 800,000 tons of limestone were spread on Illinois farms.

The 22 companies operating under agreement with I. A. A. handled approximately 85 to 90 percent of all the limestone sold in the state.

The heaviest-using territory for agricultural limestone in Illinois is the wheat-growing area in some eight or ten counties in the St. Louis territory. The soil in this region is decidedly acid for the most part and cash returns from the wheat crop come at a time when limestone can be most conveniently bought and spread.

Reviewing the accomplishments in Illinois' program for eradication of bovine tuberculosis, the director of agriculture, Stillman J. Stanard, states that 31 counties were accredited during the year — more than any other state has ever accredited in any year. This brings the total of accredited counties up to 38, which in area, and in cattle population, represents on third of Illinois. Cattle under supervision for tuberculosis eradication, in areas engaged as county units, total more than three-fourths of the dairy cattle on the farms of Illinois. In number of herds tested, as well as in the number of counties accredited, Illinois in 1928 led the entire United States, according to the records of the federal officials engaged in this disease eradication work.

BENSENVILLE

Mr. McDermott left for Iowa, some weeks ago to visit his brother who is seriously ill. Mr. McDermott was somewhat handicapped in arriving at his destination, as there had been terrible storms and the roads were blocked. He found his brother in a serious state of health and he remained at his home for about a week. Mr. McDermott was able to return home Friday night.

Mrs. Beers has been unfortunate enough to become ill shortly after the flu epidemic has passed. It is believed that she has a stroke of heart trouble. She is at the hospital in Chicago. We hope that the sickness is nothing serious and that Mrs. Beers will be well in a short time.

Grandpa and Grandma Thomas are preparing to take a trip to Chicago this week. Their daughter being ill.

Mrs. Wm. Rands' mother who has been ill, also Mrs. Pedvin of Sioux City who was taken ill while spending the holidays at the Rands' home, are both greatly improved. Mrs. Rands states that her private hospital is now turned into a real home where all are enjoying the rather cool evenings around the fire.

Word received from the Harry Gibson family of Ottumwa, Iowa, formerly Bensenville residents, advises that Mrs. Gibson recently underwent a very serious operation at the Mayo Hospital in Rochester, Minn. However their many friends here were more than pleased to learn that she was recovering nicely and would soon be home again.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw were business callers at Elgin Monday.

Tuesday evening Bensenville lodge I. O. O. F., installed the members for this year. A good number of the membership braved the weather and attended the meeting. A supper was served after the meeting and after supper all enjoyed cards till the clock struck the hour of "Time to go home."

The Cantata "The Childhood of Hiawatha" sung by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs under the direction of Miss Rilling, Thursday evening was indeed a huge success. The glee clubs have been practicing on this cantata for the past couple months, and therefore they were able to render the piece with finished perfection. The cantata has often been presented in other schools and proved to be such a success that it was adopted as a safe bet for our school. There were a great many people out to hear the singing and from their applause their opinions seemed to be quite undeniably favorable. Besides the cantata there was also a little one-act playlet presented, entitled, "The Unseen." This was amusing as well as thoroughly interesting. This was directed by Miss Willis. If you didn't see "The Childhood of Hiawatha" you missed an entertaining evening.

Letters from Earl White, who is spending a month visiting his grandmother and other relatives at Los Angeles, California, state that he is really having the time of his life. Oh, to be sure Earl won't miss a few visits to Hollywood to take a glimpse at some of his favorite picture actors. He will have lots to talk about when he returns.

Dr. Fitzpatrick, our dentist, attended a three day session of the Dentists' Convention held at the Hotel Stevens, Chicago, the fore part of the week.

Friends of Mrs. Christ Wolf of 223 Addison street are pleased to learn that she is improving nicely at the Mayo Hospital at Rochester, Minn., where she recently went for medical aid.

Richard Hennessey spent Saturday night with his parents in Chicago returning to Bensenville Sunday afternoon.

Ouch, that way below zero weather hit us the latter part of last week and it sure hit hard and left the streets and sidewalks in a hard condition also. And then on top of the slippery roads, there fell a blanket of snow and many a person stepped where they knew not and likewise soon found themselves standing on their ear or other equally tender parts of the human anatomy. Instead of singing "A hot time in the old town" you could hear the younger set complaining of this terrible cold weather when one has to really wear some clothing or freeze to death.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Ferris whose wife passed away last Friday leaving him with 3 small children. The youngest, a baby but a few hours old. The tiny remains were taken to Savanna Sunday afternoon on train No. 19 which was stopped at Bensenville at the request of the husband who is an employee of the Milwaukee railroad.

The C. W. C. will run another of their famous "Bunco and Card" parties in Franzen's hall, Thursday evening, January 24th. Refreshments, prizes and all for the regular fee of 50 cents.

A number of the "Milwaukee" family employees gathered together last Saturday evening and suddenly dropped in on family master, A. W. Herbin and family, to sell "surprise." And it was a real surprise, and how? Oh, but all enjoyed the evening. Cards, music and dancing until midnight when a lunch was served and all departed hankering their host and hostess for the use of their big home for an evening's enjoyment.

John Schmidt and his mother drove to Riverside last Sunday and spent the day visiting.

New additions to our population within the last week were babies born to Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. George Cooner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles White. All concerned doing nicely.

Now that the winter months have set in earnest, the ideal weather for sport has arrived. For a few days last week the weather was so cold and stormy that there was practically no activity abroad whatsoever. This week, however, the snow has enabled a lot of boys and girls to go out and have a regular rolling time. The first social event was the sleigh ride party held Monday night by some of the town lads and lasses. There was quite a bit of difficulty in securing a sleigh for the big event, but finally Mr. Reed was kind enough to offer his at a liberal rate. The snow was just the right depth and the evening just exactly what it should have been for the occasion. Practically every boy and girl in the Who's Who column was present to help make merry Monday night. The party started out from the station and rode all through the surrounding territory. Everyone was in gay spirits and sang and shouted "Jingle Bells," until they were hoarse.

MEDINAH

Mrs. Hinshaw, who stays with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Fletcher, is confined to her bed by the flu. Bunco party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Turner Sunday evening. Those present were Misses Pauline and Margaret Laughlin; Alice and Elizabeth Fisk; Freida Caviness; Ruth Turner and Dorothy Carpenter; Messrs. Charles, Irvin and Lawrence Pierce. Prizes were given to the winning couple which was Miss Caviness and Mr. Irvin.

Mrs. Anna Treadway arrived Friday from Coshocton, Ohio for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. W. E. Guthrie.

Ralph Lake and Earle Irvin were business callers at Elgin Saturday. Mrs. Katherine Raycroft and Mrs. Rob Stevenson were callers at the Wm. Lemke home Wednesday. Mrs. Louise Behl of Oak Park is visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Behl.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Broker left January 14 for Pasadena, California to spend the winter with a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Storey were called to Joliet Thursday afternoon by the illness of Mr. Storey's mother, Mrs. Sarah Storey.

Mr. Fred Fisk's name appears among those on the sick list. Mrs. Sweat entertained company from Chicago over the week-end.

Mr. Carl Peterson of Chicago visited his friend, Miss Agnes Fisk last week.

Because of illness, Miss Ruth

Gasoline Price Fix By State Denied

The right of a state to regulate the sales price of gasoline, a question of vital interest to the motorists of the country, was denied this week by the United States Supreme Court, according to the legal department of the American Motorists' Association, in cooperation with the Automobile Club of Illinois. The decision settles finally the question of a state's authority, under its police power, to fix gasoline prices.

The question of a state's power to regulate gasoline prices came before the court in a Tennessee case and involved directly the constitutionality of a statute enacted by the legislature of that state setting up a compulsory licensing system for gasoline sales agencies and compelling such agencies to dispense gasoline at prices determined by state officials. Failure to comply with the statute was made punishable by revocation of the license and by fine or imprisonment.

Contending that the statute was unconstitutional because it violated the due process of law clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution, the oil companies obtained an injunction from a Federal Court enjoining the enforcement of the price-fixing law. The state appealed.

Upholding the contention of the oil companies, the United States Supreme Court declared that despite the fact that gasoline is necessary and indispensable in carrying on commercial and other activities in the state, the commodity is not "affected with a public interest" and therefore belongs to that general class of commodities which are not properly the subjects of statutory price-fixing.

What Have You? It would seem perfectly clear that one cannot impart what he does not have. Yet we find parents expecting their children to be a great deal better than fathers and mothers. We find teachers assuming they can teach others more than they, themselves, know. Before we can give, we must have.—Grove Patterson, in the Mobile Register.

Friend Nature. If nature is so willing to help when real troubles face us, we can surely count on her when miseries and disappointments come.—American Magazine.
